Novatans Present Petitions Asking For Incorporation

Document Given To Supervisors; Next Step Is Signature Check

Eighteen pounds of petitions asking for incorporation of Novato were presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors today.

The bulky documents were handed to County Clerk George S. Jones by Clark M. Palmer Jr., chairman of the Novato Home Rule Committee which has spearheaded the Novato incorporation drive.

The committee claims that the petitions meet the legal requirement of bearing signatures of at least 25 per cent of the area's residents and representing ownership of at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of property in the area proposed for incorporation.

The petitions now go to Jones for verification of the signatures and to the county assessor for verification of the assessed valuation requirement.

If they meet both tests, the matter will go back to the supervisors for setting of an election at which Novatans would vote on the incorporation proposal.

The map of the proposed City of Novato, approved some weeks ago by the county boundary commission, includes a large section of North Marin, specifically including Hamilton Air Force Base, and incorporation advocates have pointed out the city would be Marin's largest.

The board of supervisors will continue its agenda at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

GIRL'S INFORMATION JAILS 2 ON NARCOTICS CHARGES

Two Sausalito men, one charged with statutory rape and possession of narcotics and the other with parcotics possession only, were arrested by Sausalito police yesterday as a result of an investigation touched off when a 16-year-old San Anselmo girl was picked up early yesterday morning in the Marinship area and charged with curfew violation and possible narcotics possession.

Sausalito Police Sgt. David Cooper, working with Donald Midyett, special investigator for the district attorney's office, obtained information which led to Felipe Janiaud, 19, an artist of 703 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

He was arrested, charged with statutory rape involving the San Anselmo girl aboard a boat in the harbor. He was also charged with narcotics possession when officers found evidence aboard the boat.

Janiaud led Cooper and Midyett to a boat at the Arques harbor which he said he had rented from Emil Pheiffer, 32, a pipe fitter. Pfeiffer had remodeled two former landing craft into living quarters, and on each boat officers reported finding evidence of narcotics.

When Pfeiffer appeared, officers placed him under arrest and booked him on charges of narcotics possession.

Sausalito Police Chief Howard W. Geerndt today hinted the case is not yet closed, saying the two officers are continuing their investigation.

Cigarette Prices Go Up Tomorrow

By DON KEOWN

The price of cigarettes is going up tomorrow from three to five cents a pack, depending upon where you buy your smokes.

The new state tax of three cents per pack goes into effect at 4 a.m. And if you buy your cigarettes straight from the retailer you will probably find the price has advanced only the amount of the tax.

But if you buy from a vending machine the price is likely to have jumped a full nickel from 25 to 30 cents a pack.

This was the price picture presented this morning by Marin distributors, vending machine operators, and retailers.

INVOICE BASIS

It will be up to the distributors or jobbers to make the tax payment to the state. And for the first two months of the new program payment will be on a straight invoice basis, with the jobbers to then be reimbursed for unsold goods. Starting Sept. 1 the jobbers will begin applying by machine tax stamps to their cigarettes.

The delay in the adoption of the stamping was ordered, the jobbers were told, because it would have been physically impossible to have printed the stamps and arranged the other mechanics in time for the July 1 start of the new tax.

Retailers will thus escape most of the red-tape posed by the new program—but probably not the cost.

PRICE MEETING

Jobbers were meeting in San Francisco this morning to discuss the price situation but had reached no conclusion at noon.

Marin distributors indicated this morning that they hope to start off tomorrow with their per carton price to the retailers raised only the 30 cents

INLAND MARIN MAY CONTINUE HOT TOMORROW

Although seaboard temperatures are supposed to be lower tomorrow, Marin's inland valleys may continue to be hot, a weather forecast indicated today.

The forecast for tomorrow in the interior of Northern and Central California is for rising temperatures, but readings will be lower in some coastal valleys and in areas brushed by ocean breezes.

In Marin yesterday, sample readings were: Summit of Mt. Tamalpais, 82; Belvedere, 88; Mill Valley, 84; Woodacre, 93; San Anselmo, 93; San Rafael, 91.

Carpenters End Threat Of Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bay Area Council of Carpenters has decided against calling a strike against the heavy construction industry in Marin, San Francisco, Alameda and San Mateo Counties.

Chester Bartalini, secretary of the union, said the council decided last night to "take no economic action."

The union's attorneys advised that a strike would involve violation of the union contract with contractors who build homes, although Associated General Contractors, representing the heavy building industry, isn't a party to the pact.

A spokesman for AGC said negotiations with the operating engineers and the teamsters are under way and "probably will be completed this week."

Protest Meeting Slated Tonight

A meeting has been scheduled this evening to protest plans of the Belvedere Development Co. to construct homesites on tidelands on the west side of Belvedere.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Clarence A. Phillips of 7 North Point Circle and was organized in a neighborhood telephone campaign.

Anyone interested may attend, according to Mrs. Samuel Stewart, one of the organizers. She said this was not the first meeting the group had held, but that no decision has been reached as to action it might take.

Jet Hits Okinawa School; Nine Killed

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—A pilotless U.S. Air Force jet fighter hurtled into the corner of an Okinawan schoolhouse today, then sprayed fiery fragments over a residential area.

The Air Force said nine persons were killed and 76 injured in the crash at Ishikawa, a city of 30,000 inhabitants 18 miles north of Naha.

Okinawa police put the toll at 16 dead and 80 hurt.

All of the victims apparently were Okinawans. Police said that 60 of the less seriously injured were school children playing near the school.

The blazing wreckage set fire to 30 houses.

Thousands rushed hysterically to the scene after a broadcast that 150 had been killed and 300 hurt. The milling crowds hindered the removal of the injured to hospitals.

POLITICAL ECHOES

It was one of the worst military disasters since World War II on Okinawa, biggest U.S. base in the Far East. There were immediate political repercussions in Tokyo. The Japanese Socialist party, long critical of American administration of the former Japanese island, said it would bring the matter up in Parliament.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of the 5th Air Force, expressed his "deep personal sympathy" for the victims and their families.

PILOT PARACHUTED

An explosion occurred aboard the F100 Super Sabre jet soon after it took off from Kadena Air Base, eight miles from Ishikawa. The pilot, Capt. John G. Schmitt Jr. of Chalmers, Ind., parachuted to safety.

Capt. Richard Roussell of Lockport, La., an eyewitness, said the empty plane headed for an uninhabited hill, veered sharply and finally crashed into a corner of the Miamori Elementary School. Sheering off from the school building, it burst into a shower of flaming metal which scattered over the green-tiled roofs of the surrounding residential district.

Pt. Reyes Lighthouse Visits Barred

The Pt. Reyes Lighthouse has been closed to visitors for an indefinite period. H. J. Densberger, acting officer in charge, announced today.

Densberger said the order will remain in effect until the ladder leading from the top of the hill down to the lighthouse has been repaired.

A contract for the repair of the ladder and for the construction of new living quarters for four families of station personnel is now pending. The work is expected to begin in July and to be completed in about three months.

Densberger said the dangerous condition of the ladder has made it necessary for station personnel to refuse permission to the public to use it to visit the lighthouse.

County Gives Free Polio Shots Today

Free polio vaccinations will be given tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock at the county health department, Fourth street and Grand avenue, San Rafael. The clinic is open to all ages.

Marin residents may get any of the vaccinations in a series of three, but not a fourth booster shot. The fourth vaccination has been recommended by Dr. Jonas Salk as a booster one year or more after the third shot. "We want to use our limited supply of vaccine to immunize as many people as possible," said a health department spokesman.

Tonight's polio vaccination clinic is the first of three. The others will be on July 28 and Aug. 25.

Doomed Convict Refused Review

The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday refused to review the trial of an inmate of San Quentin Prison's condemned row.

Charles E. Turville Jr., 24, received the death sentence for choking and beating to death Milo S. Smith of San Pedro during a robbery of Smith's office Aug. 27, 1957.

Turville's 17-year-old accomplice in the killing of Smith, a criminal attorney, has been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Turville received a stay of execution Jan. 15, 1958.

Art-Garden Fair Opens Tomorrow

A transformation, which began in February, of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross into a five-day county fairgrounds, was completed today as exhibitors rushed in displays for the show which opens at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

"We believe we have prepared the most beautiful and different fair in the 14-year history of the annual event," said Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager, and William L. Kapranos, show designer.

The outdoor show, which for years has been a family attraction over the long Fourth of July weekend, will offer model garden exhibits, lavish flower displays, art-in-action, and entertainment on the hour every hour designed to please all ages and tastes.

The show will run through Sunday night, with hours from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Opening day hours will be from 6 to 10 p.m.

Admission will be 75 cents. Children under 12, if accompanied by adults, will be admitted free.

Among the many new displays and exhibitors will be an exhibit expressing the show theme, "Patterns for Paradise," a new area for a "flower bower" resembling a Mediteranean piazza; two art shows, the largest commercial section in fair history, free polio shots and a roof garden exhibit by newcomers to the fair designed by the CYO.

Strauss Quits Cabinet Post; Resignation Saddens Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The White House today announced the formal resignation of Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss, effective at the end of business today.

President Eisenhower accepted the resignation "with personal sadness" and the resolute conviction that charges against Strauss during the Senate battle over his confirmation were "totally unjustified."

Strauss, who had been serving in the cabinet under a recess appointment since last November, was rejected for the post when the Senate recently refused to confirm his nomination.

Strauss could have served until the end of the present session of the Congress. But he wrote the President on June 23 that in view of his rejection by the Senate he should quit "in order that the functioning of the Department of Commerce may continue unimpaired."

Undersecretary Frederick Mueller will take over as acting secretary pending the nomination of another secretary.

GET TOUGH POLICY

Anti-Delinquency Drive Opens Here

Parents Of Offenders Face Penalty

Marin County today opened a determined drive against juvenile delinquency with a two-pronged attack against both the juvenile offender and his parents.

When a flagrant case of curfew violation is found, the parents of the youngster will be prosecuted, Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich declared.

This means the parents will be charged with the criminal offense of permitting their child to violate the curfew law. Such a charge can bring a maximum penalty of six months in county jail, a $500 fine, or both.

TOUGH POLICY

The announcement marks a get-tough policy by the district attorney against parents who let their children stay out all hours of the night.

The county curfew law says any adult who aids or permits a juvenile to violate curfew hours is also guilty of a misdemeanor. "Permitting" a juvenile to violate the law includes "acquiescing by failing to prevent or conceding or granting."

How about children who will not obey their parents? If the youngster does not obey his parents, he is a juvenile delinquent and can be made a ward of the court, Weissich said.

STRONGER STEPS

Weissich said he decided to take stronger steps against parents of increasing instances where girls, 15 and 16, have stayed up most of the night in parked cars with adult men. Two such incidents occurred during the past weekend alone, Weissich declared.

"I can't see any excuse for a 15-year-old girl to be out at a quarter to three unchaperoned," said Weissich. The other

Squabble Over Jensen's Raise Erupts As Board Meets After 2-week Vacation

Marin's supervisors came back to work from a two-week vacation this morning and immediately became involved in a squabble over salary increases.

At the same time they heard warnings that county government faces possible extinction and that "maybe Marin County will go broke."

An annual salary increase for County Administrator Donald Jensen launched the hour-long discussion. Jensen's salary was scheduled to go from $1,100 a month to $1,150 per month tomorrow.

DOUBLE RAISE

Supervisor William Fusselman noted that not only does Jensen get this raise, but that there is proposed in the county budget a two-range increase for him which "could possibly mean he'd get a double raise out of it." He urged the annual increase be held up until the budget decision was made.

Supervisor James Marshall objected, noting that this is a routine raise, and that the decision on the salary range increase would be made at the budget meeting Thursday.

Filling the supervisors' chambers were two score students from a problems of America democracy class at Tamalpais High School's summer school. Peter Belden was the teacher in charge.

'MAYBE GO BROKE'

Mrs. Thomas McDougall of Mill Valley arose to request that each salary range should be "considered carefully" because "these students right here are going to have to pay the bills and for the bureaucracies" of the county. She warned that states are going broke and "maybe Marin County will go broke too."

Fusselman noted that Connecticut has passed a bill eliminating county governments in that state as of next October. "If counties continue to increase their budget expenditures, they may all go by the board," he declared.

Chairman Walter Castro declared that "people aren't interested in the budget" and cited the lack of public attendance at the hearings.

VOTE RAISE

Eventually, the board voted unanimously to grant Jensen his annual raise. Supervisor Vera Schultz arrived just in time to vote, having missed the earlier discussion.

Fusselman warned, however, he would fight against a salary range increase for the administrator in the new budget.

Then the supervisors went on to pass 40 more salary increases, including those for Health Officer Carolyn Albrecht, from $1,050 to $1,110; Assistant County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, from $710 to $745, and Sanitation Director William L. Desmond, from $584 to $631.

They refused, however, to promote Hollis Gates, clerk in the sealer's office, to deputy sealer, from $341 to $376 per month, although he had successfully passed a state examination for the new job. They noted the new position was not set up in the budget yet and so they would not act upon it until after the budget was passed.

NEW COMMUTE BOOK PLANNED FOR GATE SPAN

The Golden Gate Bridge will introduce a new commute book tomorrow.

It will cost $9 for 52 one-way tickets and will be good for the remainder of the calendar month in which it is bought and all of the following month.

The present 40-trip book costs $7 and is good for 45 days from the day it was bought.

The new book is expected to speed up collections because tickets can be detached in most cases without the motorist coming to a full stop, which is now necessary for the toll-collector to clip off tolls with a hand punch.

The new book is slightly cheaper—17.3 cents for each crossing instead of 17.5 cents.

Twin Infant Dies After Race To Marin Hospital

One of the twin sons born yesterday to Mrs. Klaus D. Meinberg of Tiburon after a race to Marin General Hospital died at 11:45 last night.

Nurses had called the month-premature babies "very, very small," weighing from 1½ to two pounds each.

Mrs. Meinberg, 26-year-old wife of Pvt. Klaus Meinberg of Ft. Ord, suddenly changed her destination from Letterman Hospital in San Francisco to Marin General in a race with the stork. The first of the twin boys was born 10 minutes after she arrived at the hospital. The first twin arrived at 3:10 and his brother at 3:13 p.m.

Mrs. Meinberg, a native of Hamburg, Germany, called a telephone operator from her home at Mar West, Tiburon at 2 p.m. yesterday. The operator called the Belvedere police and Chief William Woodington dispatched an ambulance to speed Mrs. Meinberg to Marin General.

The surviving son is in an incubator.

Pvt. Meinberg hurried home to Marin last night from Ft. Ord.

case involved a 16-year-old who was caught with marijuana. A Sausalito man has been charged with providing narcotics to the girl and raping her.

The first charge against parents has been leveled against the mother and father of the 15-year-old girl. The parents are scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court on Thursday afternoon for arraignment.

Charles Jerome Thrush, 20, of 602 Ralston avenue, Mill Valley, yesterday pleaded guilty to contributing to the girl's delinquency. Sentencing of Thrush is set for July 8.

Discussion On Land Use Called Off

A scheduled meeting between representatives of Tamalpais Union High School District, the City of Mill Valley and the County of Marin on the use of a former railroad right of way was called off last night when a city official failed to show up.

Spokesmen for the three groups had planned to discuss an agreement on joint plans for use of the old Northwestern Pacific right of way adjacent to Tamalpais High School. No representative from the city attended. No new meeting date was set.

Appearing at the school district office at Redwood High School last night were County Counsel Leland H. Jordan, school Trustees Howard I. McGill, Wallace Hayes and Dr. Delman D. Smith, Frank Cassou, school district director of business services, and Ralph Priestley, architect for the district.

Truck-Car Crash Injures Airman

A 22-year-old Hamilton airman escaped with a cut on his forehead at 12:30 a.m. today when his northbound car rammed into the rear of a slow-moving truck on Highway 101 where San Rafael's Lincoln avenue access road enters the highway.

A3/c Gerard Michael Lerner, attached to the 78th Hospital, was given emergency treatment at the hospital and released. The accident remained under investigation today by California Highway Patrol Officer Joseph Kendricks.

The truck, traveling at about 20 miles an hour, was driven by Robert Edward DeYoung, 30.

Train Kills Two Boys On Trestle

CALEDONIA, N. Y. (AP)—Two boys, frozen in terror, huddled on a railroad trestle yesterday as a pounding freight train bore down on them.

Paul Lathan was knocked off the bridge and into the creek 20 feet below. He died on his seventh birthday.

His friend, William Hayward, 8, was dragged to death by the engine.

The boys were on a fishing trip with Paul's father Norman.

The boys were on the narrow side, the father on a catwalk opposite.

"I saw that train and I hollered to the boys to get across the track to the catwalk," Lathan related. "Then the train came by. When it passed, I looked and they were gone."

Rape Suspect Denies Guilt

Matt Cernac Jr., 35, San Rafael surveyor, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of forcibly raping a Marinwood mother of three Saturday morning.

Judge Richard M. Sims set bail at $2,500 and continued the case to Monday to set a date for a preliminary hearing. If enough evidence is shown at the hearing the judge will bind Cernac over to superior court for trial.

The woman, 34, said she missed a bus in San Francisco and hitched a ride from a young Sausalito man, who took her to Alto. While waiting at a bus stop at Alto around midnight, she said Cernac politely offered her a ride.

Instead of turning off at Marinwood, she said Cernac drove along Lucas Valley road, holding her coat to prevent her from jumping out. Then, near Big Rock Ranch he stopped, attacked her repeatedly, then drove her back to Marinwood.

A half hour later sheriff's deputies found Cernac asleep in his car near the scene of the alleged attack.

Councilman Sauer To Leave Hospital Soon

San Rafael City Councilman J. F. Sauer, hospitalizet at Franklin Hospital in San Francisco since last Wednesday, is showing improvement and is expected to be released to his home at 83 Clyde avenue within the next three or fonr days.

Mrs. Sauer said this morning, however, that it will be some time before her husband, a retired Pacific Gas and Electric Co. executive, will be able to receive visitors.

TAX

per carton necessary to meet the tax.

But some of them said this morning that they are certain they will soon have to hike their prices still higher to meet the costs of handling the new tax program. One mentioned a possible price increase of 35 cents a carton. Another said he doubted if the price hike would go beyond 32 or 33 cents a carton. Competition, it was noted, will be a decisive factor in determining the size of any such increase.

The switch to stamping and the physical work involved could cause still another hike in September, it was added.

Virtually all vending machine sales are expected to be a nickel per pack higher starting tomorrow.

LITTLE CHOICE

Vending machine operators said that they have little choice. Most machines are not built to handle pennies, they explained. And the practice of inclosing change in pennies inside the cellophane wrapper of the cigarette package has proven to be impractical because it involves too much physical work.

The vending machine men said the changing over of their machines for the new 30-cent price has been a major operation which they started several days ago and have not yet completed. It may yet be a week or two before some machines are converted to the new price, it was added.

Tobacco men agreed that there may be a slump in cigarette sales when the new tax goes into effect, but they expect it to be of brief duration.

'IT DOESN'T LAST'

"When there is a price raise, there are always a few who swear off smoking, but past experience shows that it doesn't last long," one said. "And there will also be those who will stock up on cigarettes before the tax goes into effect, and therefore won't be buying for a few days. But we expect sales to soon be back to normal."

Some distributors and sales outlets reported this morning that their cigarettes sales have doubled and even tripled as the tax deadline approaches.

Cigars and other tobacco products are not affected by the new tax.

Art-Craft Program Interests Kids

Mill Valley children interested in arts and crafts topped registrations in the city's summer recreation program which started yesterday, according to director William J. Castelli.

He said 145 signed up for the arts and crafts program, followed by 121 in junior theater and 105 each for the story hour and for tennis.

Thus far, Castelli reported, 294 children have signed up and registration will continue this week at Park School from 11 a.m. to noon.

Castelli said classes in photography and recorded music will not start Saturday as planned, and have been postponed to July 11.

Save-Sandspit Unit Loses Court Fight

Sausalito's Save the Sandspit Committee has lost its fight to keep the sandspit from turning into a restaurant and commercial center.

Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court last night denied the committee's petition to force the city to reconsider the sublease or put it to a public vote. His decision means that the city's agreement to have the sandspit subleased for a commercial enterprise is valid.

The city council does not have to act on the petition demanding a public referendum.

Noel Martin, member of the Save the Sandspit Committee, filed the petition against the city clerk and city councilmen.

Park-Recreation Budget Discussed

Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioners last night discussed the proposed 1959-60 budget with City Manager A. E. Almcrants, and made plans to give final approval July 15.

Chairman Charles P. Guichard said key points and recommendations made by the board and the city manager would likely be included.

No changes were made in the proposed five-year capital improvements program.

The commission also approved the plan for beautifying Lytton Square as suggested by merchant Sam Newsome and sent it on to the city council for action.

Larkspur Budget To Be Reviewed

A preliminary city budget of $275,286 for the fiscal year beginning tomorrow will be studied by the Larkspur City Council at a meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in city hall.

The budget was to have been reviewed at an adjourned meeting last week, but councilmen never got around to it.

Also tomorrow night, the council will hold a public hearing on annexation to the city of uninhabited properties on Palm Hill.

Negro Confirmed As Major General

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today approved promotion of Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., Negro officer in the Air Force to the temporary rank of major general.

Davis is the first of his race to reach that rank in the armed services. His father was a brigadier general.

Davis now is deputy chief of staff for operations for the Air Force in Europe with headquarters at Ramstein Air Force Base, Germany.

Personal Income Rises In California

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Personal income of Californians set a record during the first three months of this year, according to the state Department of Finance.

The agency reported yesterday that income for the January-to-March quarter amounted to $38,381,000,000 in terms of adjusted annual earnings.

That was an increase of 2.2 per cent over the figure for the final quarter of 1958.

Hub City Boy Weathers Hip Surgery

Young Billy Brady of San Anselmo spent a comfortable night and enjoyed a good rest at the Shriner's Hospital in San Francisco following surgery yesterday for a congenital hip deformity.

The 12-year-old boy's mother, Mrs. Charles Brady of 19 Belle avenue, San Anselmo, said this morning that she was told by doctors and nurses that her son had come through yesterday's operation—the fourth such surgery in his young life—satisfactorily.

Billy was on the operating table for two hours yesterday.

He still faces months in a hospital bed convalescing from his operation. The lonely hours however, will be shortened by letters and cards sent to him by Marin well-wishers.

Edward A. Hayden Succumbs At 72

Funeral services for Edward A. Hayden, 72, long-time San Rafael resident, who died last night, will be held tomorrow.

Hayden is survived by a brother, Robert Hayden of San Rafael. He is the brother of the late Hilary (Pete) Hayden. He was a member of Elks Lodge 1108.

Funeral services will start tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary at 9:15 a.m. with a Requiem High Mass scheduled for 9:30 a.m. at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. Interment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at the Keaton chapel.

Rites In Memphis For Rev. Klein

Funeral services were to be held today in Memphis, Tenn. for Rev. Gustavus A. Klein, 90, who died Sunday at the Tiburon home of his son, Dr Henry L. Klein, with whom he had lived for three years.

A native of Kentucky, Rev Klein was a member of Tennessee Lodge, F&AM. He was the husband of the late Madeleine Klein and the father of Dr. Warren E. Klein of Florida.

Services Slated For Mrs. Dahlman

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday for Mrs. Raymond A. Dahlman, 49, who died yesterday at San Rafael General Hospital after short illness.

A native of Los Angeles and a fifth generation Californian, Mrs. Dahlman was a resident of Marin for 22 years, making her home at 419 Redwood avenue, Corte Madera.

She is survived by her husband Raymond, traffic manager for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. in San Francisco, and three children, Penelope, Joseph and Andrew Dahlman, all of Corte Madera.

Funeral services will be held at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, and interment will be at Mt. Tamalpais Memorial Park.

Wife Divorces Actor Jeff Chandler

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Jeff Chandler's wife got a divorce yesterday, testifying: "He had no time for family life either for me or for the children during the past four years."

Mrs. Marjorie Chandler, 40, said she asked her 41-year-old husband about his indifference and he replied:

"If you're so unhappy in the marriage, why don't you get rid of me? I don't care about it any more."

She testified she developed ulcers and had to have psychiatric care. She charged extreme cruelty. They had been married 13 years.

Mrs. Chandler will get $2,166 monthly alimony and property valued at more than $130,000. She also received custody of the children, Jamie, 12, and Dana, 9, and $500 monthly for their support.

Brown Signs Record Budget Of $2.2 Billion

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today signed a record-high state budget bill totaling $2,224,944,533. He trimmed it by $1,168,110.

The state government's spending allowance for 1959-60 exceeds the 1958-59 budget by 225 million dollars. That's just about the size of the tax program approved by the 1959 Legislature.

Brown reduced veterans claims appropriations by $189,-110, the state subsidy for county veterans service officers by $150,000 and allocations for mosquito abatement by $209,-000.

FUNDS FOR CAMPUS

In addition, he blue-penciled $500,000 reappropriated from unspent 1958-59 funds for purchase of a University of California campus site at La Jolla.

The governor said he acted at the request of university officials. He said the board of regents intends to purchase the La Jolla site out of funds available now.

Brown told newsmen that he was unable to make any substantial cuts in the budget.

"I commend the members of the Legislature for one of the tightest budgets in the state's history," he said.

As signed, it contains $1,-423,551,890 in general fund appropriations, $94,620,717 in reserves and $706,771,926 in special funds.

VETERANS SERVICE

It is $36,566,898 higher than the amount originally asked by the new governor in January. However, most of the increase represents additional funds for the state water program recommended by Brown.

In all, the budget carries 83 million dollars to finance surveys and rights-of-way for water development.

Finance Director Bert Levit said that even if the governor signs several special appropriation bills, including a nine-million-dollar pension measure, there will still be a surplus of close to 10 million dollars.

Brown retained $298,350 in the budget to permit the state to continue its present veterans service conracts with veterans organizations until next Jan. 1.

Thereafter, he said, the work will be carried out by the state Department of Veterans Affairs.

The governor had recommended abolishing state outlays for the veterans services. He said he has always felt the prosecution of veterans claims is properly a federal function but that the state should assume any responsibility which belongs to it.

Shark-Watch Report Was Big Fish Story

LOS ANGELES (AP)—That account of a watch in a shark's stomach has turned out to be just a whopper of a fish story, it was reported today.

The Los Angeles Mirror News today quoted the teller of the tale, Joe St. Denis, as admitting it was a hoax.

Columnist Paul Coates said he met St. Denis in a Newport Beach restaurant and the fish boat skipper volunteered the admission that the story was untrue, saying:

"Well, with the shark scare on and everything, we got this idea. I called in to the radio station—it's a station that I do a weather report on—that we caught a huge shark, cut it open, and found a man's watch in its stomach."

St. Denis said when he got back to shore last week the pressure was on to produce the watch.

"A jeweler gave me some old parts," St. Denis continued. "I smacked them around a bit, and dipped them in acid to make it look more real."

St. Denis also said: "There was no shark. There was no watch. There was nothing. It was just a joke, a gag. It sounded funny at the time."

At the time St. Denis turned the watch over to the Los Angeles sheriff's office. Lt. C. W. McGowan said he had no reason to doubt St. Denis' story. There is a law against making false reports to law enforcement agencies. However, today Lt. McGowan said he did not plan to take any action against St. Denis.

St. Denis was not available for comment.

V. A. Patient Walks Out, Attacks Girl

MENLO PARK (AP)—A mental patient walked out of the Palo Alto Veterans Administration Hospital yesterday and raped a 5-year-old girl in a park despite efforts of her young brothers to fight him off.

Sheriff's Inspector Forrest Paull said the man was Albert F. Casey, 24, whom hospital manager Dr. John Prumsmack described as a schizophrenic psychotic.

Casey was caught by the father of the victim after the 8 and 10-year-old boys ran for help. He was booked at the San Mateo County Jail in Redwood City on a statutory rape charge, but was transferred to the violent ward of the V.A. hospital after he tried to climb the bars of his cell.

Paull said Casey assaulted a 10-year-old girl in San Francisco last September but the charge was dropped when he was committed to Napa State Hospital. He was transferred to the Palo Alto V.A. hospital last fall.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — The Communist party dropped one seat in Iceland's Parliament in final resutls announced from Sunday's general election.

The Communists, who had tried to make Iceland's dispute with Britain over fishing limits a campaign issue, now hold only seven seats in the 52-member House.

ROAD DEATH TOLL SHOWS HIKE OVER '58

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths, showing a rise in each of the first five months this year, are 5 per cent higher than for the first five months of 1958.

Traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to June 1 killed 13,940 and probably accounted for a half million disabling injuries, the National Safety Council reported yesterday.

May's death toll of 3,250 was 8 per cent higher than the 3,010 in May, 1958. This year's five-month total compared with 13,280 for the corresponding period last year.

Novato Woman Fined For Drunken Driving

Helen Mancebo Loudon, 48, of 561 Fernando drive, Novato, drew $150 fine and 90 days probation for her first drunken driving offense.

She was sentenced yesterday by Municipal Judge Richard M. Sims. The judge ordered her to drive only to and from work for the next 90 days, and not after drinking.

She was arrested on Highway 101 south of Hamilton Air Force Base two Sundays ago.

Fiancee Fired Pistol Before Actor's Suicide

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Six weeks before actor George Reeves committed suicide, his fiancee wrestled the death pistol away from him and fired two shots into his bedroom floor, the police have been told.

Police said yesterday the report came from a woman friend of Miss Leonore Lemmon, New York cafe society figure who has said she was engaged to marry Reeves, television's Superman. Miss Lemmon is now in New York.

According to the account, Miss Lemmon said she joked about Reeves' trying to commit suicide. They struggled over the gun and she fired twice to show "what it sounds like."

Just before the fatal shot early June 16, Miss Lemmon told others in the actor's house, "He's going to shoot himself."

Mill Valley Merchants To Fly Flags

Mill Valley merchants, preparing for a colorful flag display Saturday, have been cautioned to clean out the prepared sidewalk sockets in front of their stores to take the flags which will be installed early Saturday morning.

According to John McSweeney, chamber of commerce secretary, there have been many instances where the holes have become clogged with debris and have filled with water.

"On Flag Day," McSweeney said, "there were several cases where the holes contained water and after the flagpoles were inserted, the wood swelled making it necessary to saw off the poles at sidewalk level."

He said that the chamber is asking each merchant to accept the responsibility of keeping the sockets free of water and debris.

City crews will erect and take down the flags on Saturday, McSweeney said.

Almost 100 merchants have arranged to have the flag stands placed in front of their shops, he said.

Nursery Schools To Have Fair Booth

The Marin Council of Cooperative Nursery Schools will sponsor a booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair for the first time this year.

The fair opens tomorrow and runs through Sunday at the Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The nursery schools' booth will exhibit photos of children at play at schools in Marin. Balloons will be given away, and play activity provided for children of nursery school age.

The booth will be in the vicinity of the Octagon House on the center grounds.

Ark Dwellers Seek Sewer Connections

Five ark dwellers, under fire by the City of Sausalito on charges of failing to satisfy sanitary regulations and of trespassing on underwater city streets, made an effort last night to satisfy one of the demands.

The five, all residents of Mono street between Sausalito Shipbuilding Co. and the Schoonmaker plant, presented a petition to directors of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District asking permission to hook up to the district's main which fronts their barges.

The five are Philip H. Savage, Alex Georgiadus, Eugene De Prado, Robert G. Barteau and Rose Bettencourt.

District chairman Loren Jay said no action was taken pending an engineering study and a city permit.

Sausalito City Atty. John B. Ehlen said today, "The council's position has been that any structures trespassing on city streets cannot be issued a permit for sewer service as to do so would be to countenance the legality of such a location."

Ehlen noted that the action against the arks will be renewed this week with the addition of a six name, Walter Leaskin, owner of the old sailing ship Galilee, also on Mono street.

District directors last night postponed action on awarding a contract for extension of district lines near Richardson Bay Bridge pending clarification of terms for a right of way to be obtained from owner Paul J. Smith.

Lecturer On Schools

Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent of San Rafael City Schools in charge of elementary instruction, has been invited to speak at the National Convention of the American School Food Service Assn. in San Francisco from Aug. 12 to 14. Her topic will be "New Dimensions in Supervision."

San Rafael To Crack Down On Unlicensed Businesses

San Rafael police will be instructed to crack down on out-of-town firms doing business in San Rafael without business licenses.

City council members, at their meeting last night, asked City Manager Dan E. Andersen to contact Police Chief Charles Chiesa and request such action.

The council said it is particularly concerned about out-of-town subcontractors who work on San Rafael construction projects without obtaining business licenses.

The subject arose during the council's budget study session while the 1959-60 requests of the city treasurer, tax collector, and license collector were being discussed.

Andersen said he had deleted a requested $360 item for "police license detail" because he thought the enforcement of the business license ordinance was properly a responsibility of the police.

Councilmen agreed and then urged a more vigorous enforcement of the ordinance, particularly against the out-of-town subcontractors.

Bus Driver Killed, 20 Hurt In Crash

SAN JOSE (AP)—A bus driver with a perfect safety record was killed and 20 persons were injured when a Greyhound bus and a car collided south of San Jose today.

Bus driver Martin Nardini, 47, of nearby Mountain View, was killed. He had worked for Greyhound since 1935 without a chargable accident on his record.

Eighteen passengers on the bus, en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco, were injured, three seriously.

MINOR INJURIES

The two occupants of the automobile suffered minor injuries.

The injured bus passengers: Mrs. Agnes Lane, 59, of Vancouver, Wash.; compound fractures of both legs.

Robert E. Williams, 41, of San Pablo; broken thigh, cuts on head from glass.

Chuck Lush, 40, Los Angeles; undetermined injuries.

Mrs. Lane was trapped in the wreckage. She was seated directly behind the driver.

The California Highway Patrol report said the car driver was David R. Kannely, 36, of Morgan Hill. His passenger was George Henderson, 24, of Gilroy.

HEAD-ON CRASH

The CHP said Kannely was driving south when he apparently crossed the center marker and collided head-on with the northbound bus at 4:30 a.m. near Madrone, 16 miles south of San Jose.

The bus was thrown out of control, crashed through a billboard, hit a telephone poll and rolled to a stop in a field.

Ambulances took the injured to hospitals in San Jose and Gilroy where 15 bus passengers were treated for minor injuries and released.

San Rafael Department Heads To Explain Budget Requests

San Rafael city department heads will receive an opportunity to appear personally before city councilmen and explain their 1959-60 budget requests.

The council last night scheduled a meeting for that purpose for Tuesday, July 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Only those department heads about whose requests the council members have questions will be asked to appear at that meeting.

The council spent more than three hours last night "skimming" through the preliminary budget made up of the requests submitted by department heads and the recommendations of City Manager Dan E. Andersen. The 1959-60 preliminary budget total is $2,102,374, up slightly from the 1958-59 final budget total of $2,094,000.

MORE DETAILS

At the close of last night's session they asked Andersen to prepare a more detailed breakdown of some of the proposed expenditures and his recommendations—particularly in the capital improvement construction program—for their study prior to the July 7 meeting.

Considerable time was spent last night discussing the capital improvement projects.

Andersen noted that in order to avoid deficit financing in 1959-60 he had recommended the postponement of two projects listed by the Public Works Department — the construction of a storm water pump station on the canal between the mosquito abatement district and the Montecito property ($55,000), and the reconstruction of H street ($15,000).

No definite action was taken last night by the council on any of the department requests or city manager's recommendations.

STUDY FIGURES

Mayor John F. McInnis explained that "what we are interested in is finding out just what the thinking is behind these preliminary budget figures. Then we can take them home with us, study them, and be in a position to discuss them more intelligently when we meet with the department heads and the city manager in the future."

Several points did, however, come up for more extended discussion last night.

Included were:

1. Police Chief Charles Chiesa's suggestion that three women be added to his force for parking meter patrol work. This recommendation met with unanimous approval from the mayor and three councilmen present. (J. F. Sauer, ill, was absent.)

The council, however, looked less favorably on the police chief's request for 22 patrolmen in 1959-60, stating that the 1958-59 budget provided for but 20 such officers. Council members last night indicated a disposition to hold the number of patrolmen to 20 again in 1959-60, noting that the addition of the meter patrol women should release some of the men for other work. Department personnel would also include the chief, a captain, two lieutenants, and four sergeants, according to the recommendations of Chiesa and Andersen.

MORE FIREMEN

2. The requests of Fire Chief Clarence H. Johanson for the addition of three more men to his department and the creation of a new rank of engineer for six of his men. Mayor McInnis noted that "I'm going to want to give this a lot more thought before I agree to three new men." And some council members, in regards to the proposed new rank, noted that "we might be taking on too many chiefs with not enough Indians."

3. Andersen's explanation that he had recommended the deletion of a requested second draftsman by the planning department "because we simply don't have the working space for him." McInnis, however, held that "we should make every effort to find the space. Otherwise our parks and recreation planning program will be held up."

4. Agreement by the councilmen present that this year's approval of the recreation budget will be contingent upon that department's agreement to do its purchasing in the future through the council and the city purchasing department. The present practice by which the recreation department buys independently is uneconomical, the councilmen believe.

5. The suggestion of City Manager Andersen that the city buy equipment and supplies to microfilm city records. Andersen was asked to first investigate the possibility of using equipment already in the county recorder's office.

6. A letter from City Clerk-Assessor Lynn Morgan submitted in connection with his budget request and stating that he will need an additional appraiser on his staff if the tax assessing and collecting duties within the city are not transferred to the county. Council members indicated some reservations as to the wisdom of transferring the assessment responsibilities to the county, but also noted that county assessment figures should be available for the use of the city assessor. Some doubt as to the need for the hiring of the appraiser was also expressed.

7. City Manager Andersen's request for $1,900 for travel and conference expenses in 1959-60. Councilman Fred E. Jensen termed the figure "too high."

Any discussion of salaries and the large public works department budget was specifically avoided at last night's session and will be taken up at later meetings — probably the July 7 session.

Ford To Give Dance Classes In Hub City

The Dick Ford Dance Group will offer summer classes in creative dancing, tumbling, ballet, and adult exercises at Carpenters' Hall in San Rafael and Starr Hall in San Anselmo starting next week and continung through August.

Dick and Marguerite Ford will instruct.

New additions to the program this year are the tumbling class for 5 and 6-year-old boys in San Rafael and a mothers' exercise class to meet Thursday afternoons at a private school.

The San Anselmo location is also a new addition to the program. A pre-school, kindergarten and tumbling class for 7 to 10-year-olds will be held there. In San Rafael there will be a pre-school, kindergarten and technique class (7 to 10-year-olds), a small boys' tumbling course, and a pre-ballet class (7 to 10).

Mothers cooperating in the program this summer are Mrs. Arthur Brewer, Mrs. Lee Windheim, Mrs. Bruce Sedley, Mrs. Richard Frakes, Mrs. Michael Mulligan, Mrs. Raymond Dix, Mrs. Philip Lepage and Mrs. Kenzie MacInnes.

Parents interested in registering their children or observing a class can make the necessary arrangements by calling Mrs. MacInnes.

College Trustees Plan Reorganizing Meet Tomorrow

The Marin Junior College District Board will hold a reorganization meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Harlan Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield.

Trustees, reduced to four by the recent resignation of Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, will elect a board president, vice president and secretary. A representative to the County Committee on School District Organization also is expected to be named.

Rupert E. Kempf was designated acting board president after Mrs .Fusselman resigned. She had been president during the last six of her 33 years on the board.

The vice presidency has been vacant since the resignation of William A. Hamilton in March. Trustee George G. Washburn had asked to be relieved of the secretaryship.

Washburn, who will be unable to attend tomorrow, has suggested that board posts be rotated on an annual basis in the future.

Meadow Park School Work To Start Soon

Work on additions and alterations to the San Jose School District's Meadow Park School adjacent to Hamilton Air Force Base should get under way the middle of next week, Supt. Philip W. Schneider said today.

The way was cleared for an early start on construction when the district's board of trustees yesterday accepted a bid of $16,848 from William J. Kubon Co. of San Rafael to do the drainage and grading work on the project.

Previously, the Kubon company had been awarded the general contract for the project on a bid of $435,502. At that time Kubon had bid $17,150 on the grading and drainage but the figure was accidentally written in on the bid papers as $1,715, necessitating a call for new bids on that alternate and a saving of $302 to the school district.

Schneider said the necessary resolutions from the school board are being rushed to Sacramento. He said he was assured by telephone by the state Department of Education that the papers will be processed promptly and the "go-ahead" signal given for the start of construction.

Kubon was the lone bidder on the grading and drainage. Seven bids had been submitted on the general contract.

The contract calls for the construction of 10 new classrooms a multi-purpose room, cafeteria, library, and administration office at the Meadow Park School. It also provides for the demolition of 22 buildings formerly housing Hamilton Air Force Base personnel and their families, and for the remodeling of five existing classrooms.

The work is scheduled for completion by next February.

Scout Gets Plague On Camp Trip

BERKELEY (UPI)—A 12-year-old boy who contracted bubonic plague during a Boy Scout camping trip was reported in "excellent" condition today by the state Health Department.

The youth, Jerold Lindsey of Walnut Creek, was bitten on the right leg by an infected flea in the Tioga Pass area of the High Sierra, where he and 19 other Scouts were camping 11 days ago.

He became ill June 23, and was taken to the Kaiser Hospital the next day with sore limbs, a headache, swollen glands, and a high fever. An alert bacteriologist, Sally Robjohn, suspected plague and confirmed the presence of the germ with a blood test.

Dr. Karl F. Meyer of the University of California, one of the world's leading plague authorities, confirmed the diagnosis.

The state Health Department stressed that the disease is acquired only from fleas living off rodents and that in this case, the boy was infected in a remote area not accessible by automobile.

However, the department and the U. S. Public Health Service began a survey of the Tioga Pass camps area to determine whether infected fleas are present there in significant numbers.

Six Months Jail For Igniting Trousers

Stanley Sikorski, 18, of Corte Madera, yesterday was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail with credit for time already served, for setting fire to another inmate's trousers when Sikorski was in jail in March.

The fire caused second degree burns to Mickey Dean Dooley, 28, of Oakland. Sikorski was convicted of battery by a jury earlier this month. Sentence was imposed by Marin Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli.

Girl Injured In Span Crash

A 9-year-old Marin City girl suffered a broken collarbone last night in an automobile collision on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The child, Janet Stewart of House 547, Marin City, was given emergency treatment at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco and sent home.

She was riding in the car of Ronnie Stanley Bond, 24, of the same Marin City address. His car started to get a flat tire and he slowed it to a stop, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Two cars swerved from behind the Bond car to avoid a collision but a third car, driven by Harry August Knell, 61-year-old San Francisco optician, struck the Bond car in the rear, according to CHP Officer J. J. Flynn.

The accident happened at 6:10 p.m. just south of the Marin tower. Both cars were southbound.

Knell suffered a cut on his nose but refused emergency treatment.

18 Killed In 1945 Crash Given Burial In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Eighteen Americans aboard a military plane that crashed into a cloud-covered mountain in remote New Guinea 14 years ago came home yesterday to a common grave.

At the graveside were 34 relatives of the dead from 13 states.

Tears rolled down the cheeks of some as the remains of their loved ones were buried in three flag-covered caskets.

The grave at Jefferson Barracks National Cemetery was marked with a single tombstone inscribed: "Died May 13, 1945, in air crash in Hidden Valley, Dutch New Guinea."

The crash of the C47 killed 21 persons, including seven members of the Women's Army Corps.

Three persons survived the disaster which occurred an hour after the plane left Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, on a navigational training flight.

This was the second funeral service for the victims. In the first, a C47 circled over the area while Catholic, Protestant and Jewish chaplains read the services from the plane.

The only survivor at the graveside was John S. McCollom of Dayton, Ohio. McCollom, 40, an Air Force engineer, said: "I am still thankful in my prayers."

His twin brother, Robert, died in the crash.

Diver Gains After Mishap

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Italian Prince Victor Emmanuel, 22, who had a close call with death in a skindiving mishap, was recovering today in sick bay aboard the submarine tender Nereus.

The prince, son of exiled King Umberto II, said he felt fine when he emerged from a Navy recompression chamber aboard the Nereus yesterday. He was to be held in sick bay another 24 hours for observation.

He was in the chamber 18 hours for treatment of air embolism, or bubbles, which entered his blood stream when he surfaced without first exhaling compressed air while skindiving off San Diego Sunday.

Lt. Robinson Kirkpatrick, a Navy doctor, said death could have come in minutes if an air bubble had reached the heart.

Young Republicans Choose Executive

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP)—The nation's youngest Republican state legislator, Tom Van Sickle, 22, of Fort Scott, is the new executive secretary of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

Van Sickle, elected state representative from Kansas' 18th District last November, was named to the post by Ned Cushing of Downs, Kan., yesterday.

From headquarters in Washington, Van Sickle will coordinate activities of Young Republicans throughout the nation.

Long's Wife Files Answer To His Suit

COVINGTON, La. (UPI)—Mrs. Earl K. Long has returned to Louisiana and filed an answer to a separation suit by her husband, the governor, who is suffering from a nervous breakdown and heart trouble.

Mrs. Long, whom the 63-year-old governor intends to divorce, turned up last night at Baton Rouge, the state capital, accompanied by attorney Clint Pierson. She had been missing a week.

She filed an answer to Long's separation suit against her, and asked $2,500 a month alimony.

The governor, who blames his wife for throwing him into two mental hospitals and making him promise to enter a third as a condition to getting out of one of the others, did not immediately comment.

Long's psychiatrists told him last night that he is a victim of a nervous breakdown, but even so, he is in better shape mentally than physically.

They borrowed his own words to tell him he is a sick man and may get worse, although he is now rational.

They said he is suffering from the effect of a slight stroke, or series of strokes.

'FIGHT EVIL' — James P. Hoffa, 17-year-old son of Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa, was a speaker at a meeting of the Moral Rearmament movement yesterday in Mackinac Island, Mich. He exhorted the group to "get out and fight what is evil." (AP Wirephoto)

Marine Faces Death For Raping Negro

BEAUFORT, S.C. (UPI) — A young white Marine with "overpowering sex urges" faces a sentence of death in the electric chair for the rape of a 47-year-old Negro woman.

An all-white jury took only an hour last night to convict Fred J. Davis, 22, of Atlanta, without a recommendation of mercy. The jury verdict made the death sentence mandatory under South Carolina law, and Circuit Judge J. Henry Johnson planned to pronounce the sentence today.

Davis' attorney, Ben Carter, said he would appeal.

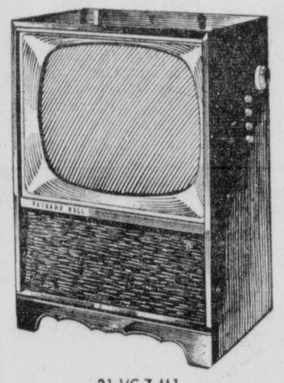

Davis was believed to be the first white man in Southern history to be sentenced to death for raping a Negro woman. Just a week ago, four white youths at Tallahassee, Fla., were sentenced to life imprisonment for raping a Negro coed.

There was no apparent racial feeling on either side in this seacoast town of 5,000 population near the big Parris Island Marine base where Davis was stationed. Five Negroes called to sit on the jury were excused when challenged by the defense.

Soviet Scientific, Cultural Exhibit Opens Run In N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—A glittering Soviet scientific and cultural exhibition began a 42-day stand today.

The Kremlin's No. 3 man, Frol R. Kozlov, renewed the Soviet call for peaceful competition at formal opening ceremonies last night.

He also heard Vice President Richard M. Nixon say in a speech at the opening: "There is no magic formula which will settle the differences between us, no conference at the summit, which will dramatically end world tensions."

Today Kozlov — who shares with Anastas I. Mikoyan the rank of first deputy premier of the Soviet Union—goes to Washington, where he is expected to make a pitch for expanded trade between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Tomorrow he meets with President Eisenhower, after a session with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. Kozlov spent an hour yesterday showing Eisenhower the exhibition.

The President seemed much impressed, and there was much to impress him. The 10,000 displays sprawl over six acres, and take up three floors of New York's Coliseum, a huge new building at Columbus Circle.

After paying the admission price, a dollar for adults and 50 cents for children, the first thing the visitor sees is a reminder of the Soviet strides into outer space—models of Sputniks, or space satellites.

The exhibition, first of its kind here since the New York World's Fair 20 years ago, is held under an exchange agreement signed by the United States and the Soviet Union last year. The American counterpart will open in Moscow July 25.

Among the displays is a large model of the silver airliner that brought Kozlov to New York from Moscow. The airliner, the world's largest, made the first nonstop trip between the two cities—a distance of 5,092 miles.

A piano-shaped box of Soviet chocolates on exhibit bears the face of American pianist Van Cliburn, who took a Moscow music competition by storm last year.

There are Soviet automobiles, including several of the new, popular, foreign import size. They sell for $6,000 to $7,000.

Women's fashions, TV sets with a 12-inch screen, a miniature of the Bolshoi Ballet, and such subjects as public health, electronics, industry, and peaceful application of atomic energy make up the rest of the displays.

Kozlov indicated at a luncheon with American businessmen that expanded Soviet-American trade is a major objective of his trip.

The brain of thunder lizard (Brontosaurus) weighed only about a pound. The animal weighed about 35 tons.

Graham Back From Trip To Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said today that "in spite of the fact that the Communist party is avowedly militantly atheistic, they have not been able to stamp out belief in God" in the Soviet Union.

The Montreat, N.C., preacher returned today on the liner United States from a six-month tour which took him to the Soviet Union and Australia.

He said he went to a number of services and he estimated that at least a fifth of the audience consisted of teen-agers.

He said that although he spent only a week in the Soviet Union, "I was there long enough to hope and pray communism never controls the United States."

The evangelist was greeted by more than 200 persons assembled behind a banner which proclaimed "Christ lives. Trust him."

Graham said he would leave for Washington tomorrow to spend a day before returning to his home for two months.

Reds Slow Down Berlin Traffic

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communists resorted to a brief slowdown of truck traffic outbound from Berlin today in apparent retaliation for the West German government's decision to hold its presidential elections here tomorrow.

But the Reds made no major attempt to blockade the city, and even subdued their propaganda this morning.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived here this morning on one of his rare visits and pledged continued support for West Berlin against its Red besiegers.

Ludwig Erhard, vice chancellor and economics minister, arrived at the same airfield about the same time as Adenauer. But he traveled by commercial airliner, whereas Adenauer arrived aboard a U.S. Air Force plane.

It was not known whether the two men traveled separately because it was thought unwise to have the two top government officials aboard the same plane, or whether it was due to their recent political differences.

The Communist regime threatened to blockade West Berlin if the elections were held here and the Soviet Union sent notes to the Western Allies Friday complaining that the elections would sabotage possibilities of an East-West agreement at Geneva.

West Berlin customs officers reported that the Communist slow motion tactics began just before midnight last night.

Brown To Play Host To Kozlov

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov is scheduled to make his first West Coast appearance in the capital Friday as the luncheon guest of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown plans a private luncheon for the visiting Russian official and his entourage at the El Mirador Hotel, across from Capitol Park. From there, Kozlov is scheduled to go on to San Francisco.

The governor's office said yesterday the invitation was arranged by the State Department, but that it had no other details of Kozlov's visit to the California capital.

SOVIETS PLAY HOST

Ike's Probably Bruised, But He's Still Smiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appeared to enjoy himself thoroughly. But it's something of a minor miracle if he doesn't have a few bruises today.

Chances are that Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, who is due here late today, could match Eisenhower one black and blue spot for another. However, the Kremlin official seemed to have a good time, too.

It all happened yesterday in the New York City Coliseum, where Eisenhower met Kozlov for an hour-long official tour of the Soviet-Union's scientific and cultural exhibit.

"I think it is a very, very admirable exhibit," Eisenhower said as he completed his visit. "I think it is lovely."

But during their tour, the two men were propelled—pushed, jostled, shoved—around the big exposition hall as the crowds of spectators and newsmen crushed in from all sides.

Scores of New York police were hard put at times to stay on their own feet. The Secret Service agents especially responsible for Eisenhower's security also had a rough time. The Soviets assigned to Kozlov must have had some anxious moments.

But the President and Kozlov, who arrived from Moscow Sunday, smiled through most of it.

Eisenhower laughed heartily at one point and assured his Soviet hosts: "I've been pushed around for six years. I'm used to it."

Kozlov took it in apparently equal good humor, replying: "Well, we won't resort to tear gas and clubs.

They didn't even appear to be aware that some of the top United States officials who accompanied the President to the fair, including Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Maj. John Eisenhower, the President's son, got hopelessly cut off from the touring party after the first few minutes.

LONG TRUDGE

Two Hiking To N. Y.— By Beach

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—Two young men are hiking to New York—along the beach.

Why? To prove it can be done, Don Jenkin and Frank Culy said as they set out Saturday.

They plan to trudge via Los Angeles, San Diego, the peninsula of Lower California, the west coast of Mexico and Central America, along the Panama Canal, then up the east coast of the North American continent to New York.

They figure it will take them 18 months.

Each carried a machete, hunting knife, two changes of clothes, a compass, maps, knapsacks, blankets, first-air kits, flashlights, toilet articles and 20 pounds of food. But no money; they plan to live off the land.

Jenkin, 22, originally from Victoria, B. C., and Culy, 21, of Oakland, recently have worked on construction projects here.

Muir Woods Tourism Up 19 Per Cent

With the July 4 holiday falling on Saturday, the volume of visitors expected this year at Muir Woods National Monument is likely to equal or exceed last year's three-day holiday, according to Park Supt. Frederick M. Martischang.

He said that the number of visitors thus far this year has exceeded the same date last year by 19 per cent which has further limited available parking facilities and has tended to crowd the trails.

"While we welcome visitors to Muir Woods," Martischang said, "we are greatly concerned this year over the fire hazard, due mainly to the fact that we have had only 20 inches of rainfall this year compared to works of any type are strictly 54 inches last season."

He pointed out that fire-prohibited and fire are not allowed in any area. Martischang noted that three weeks ago a small smoldering fire was found in Cathedral Grove evidently caused by a cigarette.

He cautioned that if the present dry spell continues, it is quite possible that smoking will not be permitted on the trails.

LOOKING FOR A NEW ROAD ROUTE

Norris Rawles, San Rafael supervisor of public works, second from right, points out to three companions a point of interest during a San Rafael Chamber of Commerce field trip this morning to seek a possible route to connect Sir Francis Drake boulevard in San Anselmo with Highway 101 in the Terra Linda area. Fairfax and San Anselmo were also represented. From left are Dr. Louis Luster Robinson of San Rafael, A. N. (Al) Nipper of San Anselmo, Rawles, and Dick Cuthbert of San Rafael. U.S. Winds Up Fiscal '59 With Record Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam today winds up his 1959 fiscal year with the biggest peace-time budget deficit on record. The exact amount of red ink won't be known for several weeks.

President Eisenhower forecast a deficit of $12,900,000,000 in his January budget message to Congress. Budget Director Maurice H. Stans told a Senate committee last week the figure may be several hundred million dollars lower.

A smaller deficit would mean that tax revenues have exceeded the 68 billion dollars predicted in January.

SMALL CHANCE

There is little chance that spending will be shaved much, if any, below the budget message figure of $80,900,000,000.

In any event, the deficit will be more than twice as big as any previously recorded in peacetime. The old peacetime high was $4,425,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 10, 1936, when government spending was increased to offset the depression. The all-time high deficit was about 57½ billion dollars in fiscal 1943, in the early days of World War II.

For President Eisenhower, fiscal 1959 brings the fourth deficit in six years.

BRIGHTER PICTURE

The 1960 fiscal year, which begins at midnight, will almost surely produce a brighter picture. There might even be a sizable surplus if the new economic boom follows the course now foreseen by government economists.

Eisenhower asked Congress to authorize fiscal 1960 spending of $77,030,000,000. He predicted revenues of $77,100,000,000 and a precarious budget surplus of 70 million dollars, contingent on higher gasoline tax and postal rates which Congress isn't likely to put into effect.

HIGHER REVENUES

The administration now concedes that spending will exceed the January forecast. However, revenues are expected to be higher too.

Congress still is working on the 1960 appropriations but has shown a reluctance to vote spending plans much higher than Eisenhower's blue-print. The legislators, however, are balking at administration requests for a higher federal gasoline tax to finance road-building and for higher postal rates.

Midyear Finds American Economy At High Level Despite Threats

(At midyear most of us are better off than we could have hoped New Year's Day. Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, reviews an exciting first half of 1959 in the following story, first of two on the economic outlook.)

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Most Americans fared well in the first half of 1959 — despite all the threats to their peace and prosperity at home and abroad.

They have more money than six months ago, are spending more, going into debt more, working longer hours at a record number of jobs.

At midyear the cost of living is rising at only a moderate, if insidious, increase.

Total personal incomes have risen steadily and now are at a record high. They are being boosted along by higher wage scales, overtime pay, bigger dividend checks, and higher returns on services rendered.

Job opportunities have increased more than seasonally. And the stubborn total of unemployment began to melt as spring brought more outdoor work. Industrial output has climbed to new peak.

Money supplies have tightened and interest rates are rising. But only recently has the individual began to feel any pinch. Until now, the chief complainers have been the federal, state and local governments seeking to raise cash and corporations who are charged more when they borrow.

So far Americans have been able to find enough mortgage financing to start an increasing number of homes.

The citizenry is taking on a record amount of instalment debt. It has added to its mortgage obligations, but still has managed to save almost as much money as a year ago.

For the first time in several years, motorists have greeted spring with a burst of auto buying — much of it on the cuff.

And, attracted by the bull market, with its promise of capital gains, more Americans than ever have become shareholders — either as investors for the long run or as traders for the quick profit.

There have been alarms. But most citizens have taken them quietly. These includes the Berlin crisis which could have, but didn't, upset everything; the threat of a steel strike — still unresolved at midyear; and the hullabaloo about the approach of another round of inflation, which may or may not materialize.

The biggest thing of all in the first half of 1959 has been the upsurge in public confidence. Recession born caginess melted with the snow drifts. Reassured by the speed of the recovery, Americans are buying goods and mortgaging future incomes at a great rate, and in general living it up.

Hearing On Assessment Bill Slated

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has called a public hearing on controversial property tax legislation approved by the Legislature and awaiting his signature.

The governor, in the unusual step to help him decide whether to sign the bill, set next Tuesday for a hearing on the measure by Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton).

The bill would repeal the inoperative 1949 law requiring equal assessment of utility and common property for tax purposes. Coolidge says the bill would prevent a 95-million-dollar shift of property taxes from utilities to home owners.

Coolidge's Joint Legislative Committee on Assessment Practices reported that the state assesses utilities at 50 per cent of value, while common property—taxed locally—is assessed at 25 per cent.

The measure also would require county assessors to open their assessment methods and ratios to the public.

Bill Keeping High Tax Rates Waits Ike Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Eisenhower's signature was needed today to extend for another year present wartime rates on corporation income and excise taxes.

The three billion dollars of annual revenue which the bill would preserve are needed if Eisenhower is to keep alive his hopes for a balanced budget in the year ahead.

The measure must become law by midnight or the corporation income tax levy drops from 52 to 47 per cent and the rates on high-income-producing excises also will fall.

The excise taxes apply to autos, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

Congress sent the bill to the White House Monday — the sixth straight year it has voted an extension of the Korean wartime rates at the President's request.

The House acted quickly by voice vote but the Senate had a lively debate before passing the compromise bill by a 57-55 vote.

All 32 Republicans present supported the measure along with 25 Democrats.

Engineer Outlines State's Plans For Highway Expansion In Marin

The 1959 state Legislature added 30 miles of state highways in Marin to the present 88 miles—an increase of more than one-third, R. A. Hayler, district engineer for the state Division of Highways, today told members of the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Hayler addressed the board's breakfast meeting at the King Cotton restaurant in San Rafael, outlining highway plans for Marin.

Added to the state system, effective Sept. 19, are these routes:

1. A route from Highway 101 in San Rafael to Point Reyes Station, which would in effect provide a through state highway from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to the west coast at Point Reyes Station. This adds 18.2 miles to the highway system in Marin.

2. A 1.4-mile stretch of Sir Francis Drake boulevard East from the Greenbrae interchange to Pt. San Quentin, hooking into the state highway leading from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

3. A loop from Route 69 (the San Rafael-Point Reyes Station highway listed under item 1) near Nicasio to Novato or a point near Novato (11.2 miles).

Legislation adding these routes to the state system prohibits any construction on them before the 1963-64 fiscal year, but planning studies will be made and rights of way may be purchased, Hayler said.

Projects in sight for Marin in the near future include:

1. A 1.25-million-dollar Highway 101 interchange at Terra Linda and partial interchange at the Santa Venetia civic center site, on which plans are completed and bids are expected to be called this summer.

FINAL CONTRACT

2. The final contract for the multi-stage Greenbrae interchange on 101—a 1.25-million off-ramp for northbound traffic. This work is expected to be started in September, Hayler noted.

3. Landscaping of the sides and center divider section of the 101 Freeway from the Richardson Bay Bridge to the San Quentin wye at San Rafael. The 1959-60 budget includes $50,000 for this project, and work is to start this fall, Hayler said.

Under study for future construction are Highway 101 interchanges at Marinwood, Hamilton Air Force Base, San Jose road and Ignacio; a full freeway through Novato; four-laning of Tiburon boulevard from 101 to Trestle Glen road; relocation of Shoreline highway from 101 to Point Reyes Station; expansion of 101 to eight lanes from the Golden Gate Bridge through San Rafael and improvement of ramp facilities at San Rafael.

'GENEROUS TREATMENT'

Hayler concluded with a reminder that Marin has received "generous treatment" from the state Highway Commission in the allocation of highway funds.

He pointed out that under state law guaranteeing counties certain minimum amounts of money, Marin's guarantee for the five-year period 1958-63 is about nine million dollars. In the first two years of that period, the county has been allocated nine million dollars, he declared—in other words, the county has received its full five-year guarantee in two years, and will unquestionably receive much more in the remaining three years.

Hayler declined to be drawn into a discussion of need for a San Francisco-Tiburon bridge, but pointed out the obvious fact that the increase of north-south traffic is at such a rate that some additional facility will be required, be it expansion of the Golden Gate Bridge or construction of a second bridge or some other solution.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—An irregularly higher stock market brought industrials once more near a record high late this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Volume for the day was estimated at about the same as yesterday's three million shares.

Gains of key stocks went from fractions to about a point and losers moved in the same range.

A few secondary issues posted big gains, most of them responding to trading interest based on favorable interpretations of their price chart patterns.

Motorola gained more than five, Cutler-Hammer more than three, Outboard Marine more than two and American Machine and Foundary about two.

U.S. Rubber, Caterpillar and Westinghouse Electric also were head about two apiece.

Losses of around a point were taken by Kennecott, Allied Chemical, United Aircraft and Goodyear.

Slightly lower were Texaco, New York Central, Boeing, Republic Steel, American Smelting, U.S. Gypsum and International Nickel.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Anaconda and American Telephone were not better than steady.

U.S. government bonds drifted slightly lower.

Four Airmen Plead Guilty To Perversion

Four airmen yesterday pleaded guilty to a felony charge of sex perversion growing out of an incident in May in which the four allegedly forced a San Rafael man to submit to perverted acts at knifepoint.

In pleading guilty to the perversion charge, the four escaped prosecution on a more serious charge of kidnaping with bodily harm — a death penalty offense.

The four men are A/2c Richard Phillip Weitzel, 24; A/1c Norman Carl McCracken, 28; A/1c Thomas Samuel Michaels, 24; and A/2c Wayne R. Carr, 22. All are members of the 2347th Materiel Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base.

After they pleaded, Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori asked for a probation report and continued the case to July 20 for probation report and sentence.

The charges against the men were based on an incident in which the victim, David Buenrostro, 29, of 43 Harbor street, San Rafael, said he met the airmen at a bar, accepted a ride with them, was taken to a spot on the Smith Bros. dump road at Santa Venetia and forced at knifepoint to submit to indignities.

Service Station Partnership Ends After 12 Years

One of the oldest service station partnerships in Southern Marin comes to an end tomorrow when Fred Martin leaves the firm of Bardea and Martin, operators of the Tidewater Station at the corner of avenues in Mill Valley.

The partnership was formed in 1947 by Martin, who had operated a station at E. Blithedale and Throckmorton since 1938 and by Alex Bardea, just returned from military service.

The station was modernized last year.

Martin will join his brothers Bert and Jack as operators of Martin Bros. Supply Co., on Shoreline highway at Tamalpais Junction. They handle all types of building materials except lumber.

Bardea will continue to operate the service station.

Decision Due Soon On Woodacre Club

A decision is expected sometime this week on a contractor for the construction of the Woodacre Improvement Club building, according to John T. Keilty, club president.

Keilty said today that "we are still negotiating with a couple of concerns, but we should know what we are going to do by the end of the week."

Cost of the building is estimated at $38,000.

Marin Folk Dancers To Have Busy Month

CRUSADE LEADER—Carroll Tornroth of Kentfield has been named director of advertising displays for United Crusade in Marin County. Tornroth is general manager of the Gallagher Co. in San Francisco. He has twice served as president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. and is currently president of the Kentfield Civic League. He has also been active in youth work.

Marin folk dancers launch a busy month tomorrow night at the Marin Art and Garden Fair. At 8 p. m. the Marin Folk Dance Council sponsors the first of two evenings of dancing at the fair, when the Claire de Lune platform takes on old world gaiety. Second demonstration will be Saturday evening.

On July 12, the Marin council sponsors an all-day free festival. Outdoor dancing will begin at 1:30 p. m. on the football field at College of Marin; the evening program at 7:30 p. m. in the college gymnasium.

All folk dancers are welcome.

The month's finale, a spectacular, will be staged at 8:30 p. m. on July 25 at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Only the dancers will pay an admission fee.

Not Any More

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Seldom Seen Road in southwest Delaware County will be better seen now, anyway. A new road sign giving its name has been put up.

ROYAL RECEPTION — Ticker tape drapes building in downtown Toronto, Canada, yesterday as Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip ride by. Toronto gave the royal couple a rousing reception. (AP Wirephoto)

Russ Set Industry Supremacy Goals

MOSCOW (AP)—The Central Committee today put before the Soviet people a master plan to cut corners in the race with the United States for industrial supremacy.

The plan, adopted at a five-day meeting of the committee at which Premier Nikita Khrushchev made the main speech, was spread over 3½ pages of the Communist party paper Pravda, and the government paper Izvestia.

It calls for widespread automation in industrial plants, retooling and mass mobilization of scientific and efficiency experts.

It also calls for tightened central control by the party and government to assure a uniform industrial advance on a broad front to achieve goals of the seven-year economic plan.

The seven-year plan aims at surpassing the United States, but one industrial expert, Averki B. Aristov, frankly told the committee the task of modernizing is too big to be accomplished in the seven-year plan.

The five-day session at the Kremlin disclosed that Soviet industry is modernly equipped in some fields and badly out of date in others.

Suit Tossed Out Seeking Brown Ouster

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. Clair Engle and five other state officers won't lose their jobs because of a suit by an unsuccessful Republican candidate for Congress.

Superior Judge Alfred Mundt Monday dismissed the suit filed by Lew M. Warden Jr., an Oakland attorney who said his action was non-partisan.

Warden said the officers should be unseated because they failed to list campaign contributions by donor and amount.

Judge Mundt agreed with assistant attorney general Leonard M. Friedman that the reason was insufficient and that all the officers shouldn't be lumped in one suit.

Other defendants were Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, Controller Alan Cranston, Treasurer Bert A. Betts and Secretary of State Frank Jordan.

Attempted Forger Gets Year In Jail

Samuel Rover, 32, of San Francisco, yesterday received a sentence of one year in the county jail for attempting to pass a forged traveler's check at a Marin City market in May.

Sentence was not imposed on his companion in crime, James C. Johnson, alias Addulahi El Khalifa Hamadallab. Marin Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori delayed sentencing Johnson until he receives a report from two psychiatrists appointed to examine Johnson and report on his sanity.

Queen To Present Purse To Turf Classic Winner

TORONTO, Canada (AP)—The sport of kings drew a queen to the oldest horse race in North America today.

Queen Elizabeth's Canadian hosts filled a purple velvet bag with 50 gold sovereigns—about $150—for the monarch to present to the owner of the winning horse in the Queen's Plate stakes at Woodbine track outside Toronto.

The royal box was painted and polished and the paddock newly manicured for the queen.

Today is the 100th anniversary of the Queen's Plate, a turf classic that antedates the Kentucky Derby.

Elizabeth is a racing enthusiast with her own stable. Last year she was England's leading money winner.

Today's event comes just 20 years after Elizabeth's father, the late King George VI, handed the purple bag to the winner.

For the queen's arrival in Toronto yesterday, it was well over 90 with heavy clouds and crushing humidity. The queen changed costumes three times during the gruelling 12-hour schedule.

Throughout the rounds of handshaking, the drive past an estimated 500,000 persons lining the streets, the official welcome at city hall and the various other appearances, Elizabeth managed to look cool and summery.

No Holiday Friday At Isabel Cook School

Students attending summer school at Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo, will not get a pre-Fourth of July holiday Friday.

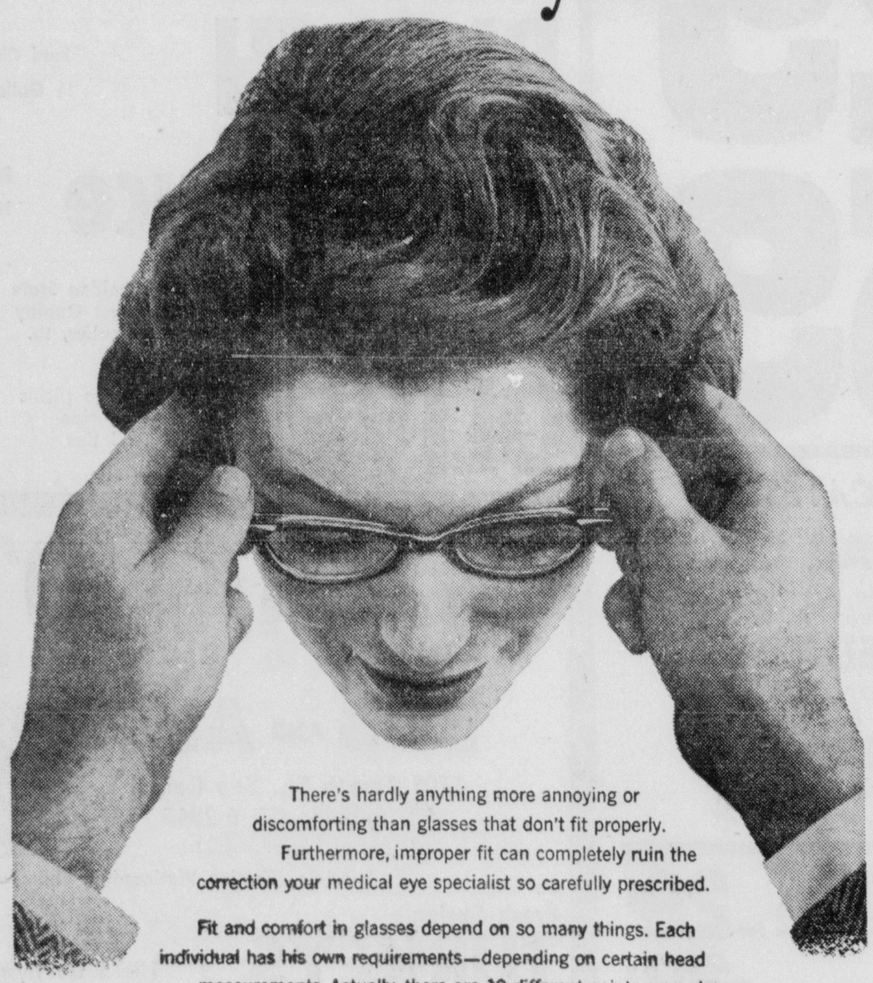

The summer session serves students of the San Anselmo, Kentfield and Fairfax confederated school districts. Classes will be held as usual Friday, and district employes will be on the job that day, according to Supt. Harold DePue.

We won't let you wear them unless they fit

There's hardly anything more annoying or discomforting than glasses that don't fit properly. Furthermore, improper fit can completely ruin the correction your medical eye specialist so carefully prescribed.

Fit and comfort in glasses depend on so many things. Each individual has his own requirements—depending on certain head measurements. Actually, there are 10 different points your glasses must fit to provide complete comfort. Furthermore, the many different frame designs must be considered to determine which is best for you.

All in all it takes a very experienced eyewear specialist plus a wide selection of frames to fit you properly.

Our eyewear specialists just won't let you wear Jenkel-Davidson glasses unless they fit you properly. Sometimes adjustments are necessary after you wear a frame for awhile. We encourage you to come in for such service.

For the utmost in eyewear comfort and style too, Jenkel-Davidson is pleased to serve you.

Giants Send Jones At L. A. Tonight

Hit By Foul Ball Fails To Hurt Orlando Cepeda

LOS ANGELES (AP) — San Francisco's Giants are back in second place today and the most harrowing thing about the game that got them there was a foul ball that didn't figure in the score.

The Giants had to go 13 innings to whip Los Angeles 6-4 last night, snapping the Dodgers' winning streak at seven games. It was in the 13th that a whistling foul ball smacked the Giants' Orlando Cepeda on the right side of the chin and knocked him out.

Cepeda, picked to start at first base for the National League in the All-Star Games, was kneeling in the on-deck circle when hit. He lay motionless for what seemed like a full minute, then got up and walked to the dugout.

X-rays taken at Daniel Freeman Hospital showed no broken bones. Cepeda was discharged early today and returned to his hotel room.

Manager Bill Rigney, who came out of the dugout like a shot when Cepeda went down, said later in the dressing room: "Was I scared? Boy, I'll say so. I thought the ball hit him in the temple."

Cepeda was joking with teammates after the game, but later after he was hit, a writer heard him telling himself: "Lucky, lucky, lucky."

He was struck by a foul off the bat of Willie Kirkland just after Jim Davenport and Willie Mays had produced the deciding runs with back-to-back homers off Stan Williams. Davenport's homer was his second of the night. He got the other on the first pitch of the game.

Rigney, whose Giants beat the Dodgers 16 times in 22 meetings last year, said this victory "really gave our guys a big lift." Before last night, the Giants had only a 5-7 record against Los Angeles.

San Francisco, trailing first-place Milwaukee by one-and one-half games and leading the Dodgers by two percentage points, will start Sad Sam Jones (8-8) in the final game of the series tonight against Don Drysdale (8-5) Jones is 1-1 against Los Angeles and Drysdale is 2-0 against the Giants.

Lefthander Mike McCormick got the last victory by shutting out the Dodgers on four hits over the last four and two-thirds innings. Rigney was just as high on little Stu Miller, the junk-throwing righthander. Stu, famed for his control, was much wilder than usual, giving up seven bases on balls in the eight innings he worked. But he fanned nine and surrendered just two runs. One came on Gil Hodges' 14th homer of the year.

"I don't think there's a guy in the league who throws slower," Hodges said, "but what he throws he really throws good."

It was the third time Davenport had hit two homers in a game at Los Angeles. So far this year he had had five round trips. Of his 12 rookie homers in 1959, five were in the Coliseum.

Williams, whose record is now 3-3, came in to pitch for Sandy Koufax, who was relieved for a pinchhitter after striking out five in three perfect innings of relief pitching against the Giants.

San Francisco got a pair of runs in the third when Mays singled and Kirkland homered. Their other run was in the ninth when Cepeda singled and Jackie Brandt tripled him home.

Los Angeles scored its first two runs in the opening inning on singles by Jim Gilliam and Charlie Neal, two errors and a ground out. The Dodgers' last run was in the ninth when Gilliam singled, Neal doubled and Carl Furillo hit a sacrifice fly.

Furillo hurt his right foot running out an 11th inning single.

Braves Beat N.Y. In Charity Game

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The New York Yankees kicked the ball around in weird fashion and the Milwaukee Braves' reserves looked like super stars. But it wasn't the Worlds Series—only an exhibition.

Youngsters in the Wisconsin and New York area were the only beneficiaries in the Braves 8-3 victory over the Yankees last night before a crowd of 30,554 at County Stadium.

The Braves added plenty of extra dollars and presented a check of $100,000 to the Milwaukee Braves' Foundation established to provide college scholarships.

The Yankees earmarked their share of the receipts—close to $30,000—for the New York Sandlot Baseball Fund.

Red China Definitely Out Of Squaw Valley Games

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Red China's athletes definitely won't" compete in next year's Winter Olympics.

That point was reemphasized today by Prentis C. Hale, president of the Squaw Valley committee. His statement coincided with discussions in the U.S. Senate about a $400,000 appropriation for Squaw Valley.

Hale made his statement on the heels of a conference with Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee.

Hale stressed that Nationalist China had already been invited and would compete. He said Red China was not recognized by the International Olympic Committee at the time the invitations had been sent out for the winter games and that was why it wasn't being invited.

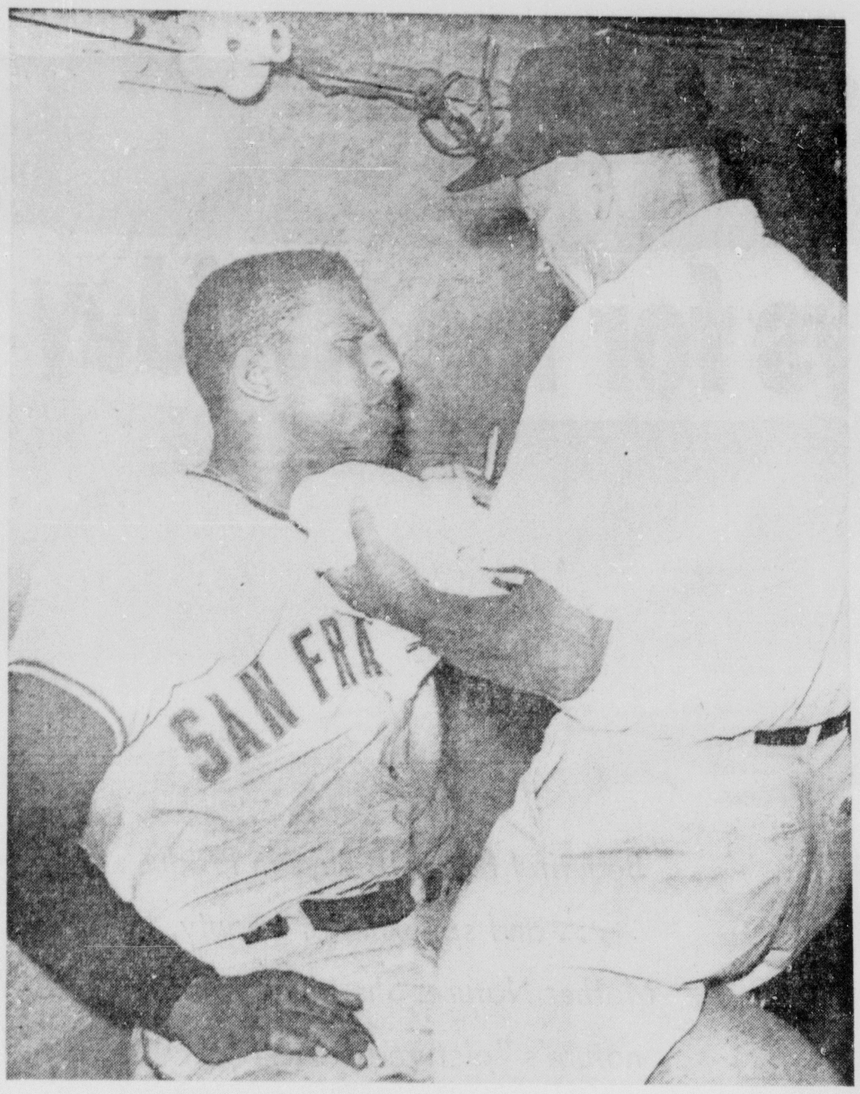

At the same time, Brundage denied that Nationalist China had been "ousted" or "expelled" from the Olympics under the IOC's decision at its recent Munich, Germany, meeting.

Brundage said the IOC's decision sought to identify the Nationalist Chinese with Formosa.

He denied that the IOC had meddled in politics or bowed to Communist pressure on its decision.

The decision set off a small furor in this country what with the government's long standing refusal to recognize Red China.

Some congressmen said the federal government ought to withdraw its support from the winter games.

VICTIM OF FOUL TIP — Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco Giants' first baseman, gets first aid from a trainer last night in the dugout after being struck in the face by a foul ball. X-rays today disclosed no injuries, and Cepeda is expected to be on hand tonight when the Giants play the second of a two-game series with the Dodgers in Los Angeles. (AP Wirephoto)

Goggin Easily Qualifies For British Open

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (UPI)—Willie Goggin, world senior golf champion from San Jose, easily qualified for the British Open Championship today with a 142. Observers figure it will require a 148 or a 149 to qualify for the tournament proper.

Goggin, a husky driving range operator, matched par today with a 36-36—72 over the bunker-pitted Muirfield course. He fired a two-under par 70 in the first qualifying round yesterday on the easier Gullane layout, the other course used for the preliminary play.

Rain battered the 250 entries yesterday, but today's first starters teed off in bright weather with the sun peeking through the clouds. After today's play, the field will be cut to 100 for the start of the 72-hole championship tomorrow.

10 Telling Days Arrive In A. F. Pennant Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League pennant race, so far a scramble of winning streaks and slumps, gets rolling tonight on what could be 10 telling days for the five contenders — Cleveland, Chicago, Baltimore, Detroit and New York.

In those 10 playing days, sandwiching the break for the All-Star game at Pittsburgh a week from today, two of the three western wonders will face each other every day.

Cleveland, first a game over Chicago, plays four games with the White Sox in that span and six against Detroit. The Tigers, four games behind and tied for fourth with New York after a 10-inning, 10-3 loss to Kansas City in the only A.L. game scheduled yesterday have a half-dozen games with the White Sox.

That gives either of the three—the Indians, White Sox or Tigers—a chance to break away, but a stand-off is more likely. And a stand-off would give Baltimore and New York a chance to take charge.

The Orioles, third, two and one-half games back, and Yankees play each other only three times in the 10-day period. Baltimore splits a dozen games between Washington and Boston, while the Yankees have 10 with the Senators and Red Sox.

A stand-off among the Injuns, White Sox and Tigers would make Kansas City the tie-breaker, and the seventh place A's could snarl things but good.

They jumped from behind for a 2-2 tie on Kent Hadley's ninth-inning home run at Detroit yesterday, then turned another batch of Tiger bobbles into a record-tying, eight-run 10th. The Tigers now have lost nine of their last 14 games, and while dropping three of their last five, 16 of the 30 runs against them have been unearned.

Flint Golf Tourney Opens Thursday

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The nation's top touring professionals will shoot for a $9,000 top prize for the second straight week when they tackle Warwick Hills' long layout Thursday in the $52,000 Flint Open Golf Tournament.

Bill Casper Jr., who failed to survive the cut in last week's Chicago Open, will be on hand to defend his championship over the man-killing course.

The field of 151 will play the course at about 6,900 yards opening day. Then the layout will be extended to 7,000, then to 7,100 and finally to the full 7,280 for Sunday's final round.

NO POLICEMAN

Hamilton Named AAWU Executive

BERKELEY (AP)—Tom Hamilton won't be a policeman in his new job as executive officer of the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities.

That was the field where Victor O. Schmidt ran into trouble as commissioner of the Pacific Coast Conference, an organization that officially passed out of existence today.

Hamilton, 53, resigned yesterday as director of athletics at the University of Pittsburgh, a job he had held since 1949, to become head of the newly formed AAWU that numbers four erstwhile PCC members.

FIVE-YEAR PACT

He agreed to a five-year contract at a salary believed around $20,000 a year.

"His duties will be to run the affairs of the association, see that we have a good officiating program and generally aid in the promotion of intercollegiate athletics," said Greg Englehard, athletic director at California.

"He will not have the investigatory powers that Schmidt had, but would help in settling any differences of opinion between members. This is probably the main difference in their jobs."

FORM AAWU

California, UCLA, Southern California and Washington banded together in the AAWU.

The articles of the conference: "The association has been established on the principle of institutional control for the intercollegiate athletic program and with mutual trust and confidence that each member will conduct its athletic program according to these basic principles."

Some of the California schools objected to Schmidt's role in investigating policeman while he headed the PCC.

A big question remaining on this eve of the official formation of the "Big Four" is whether it will soon become a "Big Five" with Stanford included.

TOM HAMILTON
Heads new athletic group

Hamilton formerly starred for Navy and coached the midshipman. He retired from the Navy in 1949 with the rank of rear admiral. He coached football, along with his director's job at Pitt in 1951 and 1954.

He is due here tomorrow to discuss his new position with officials of the member schools. He said he would make his headquarters in San Francisco.

Dr. Frank Kidner, chairman of the AAWU organizing committee and professor of economics at California, said, "We are extremely pleased that we were able to attract Hamilton, a national figure, who commands universal respect among his colleagues in intercollegiate athletics.

Braves Beat Indians

The Braves defeated the Indians, 11-0, last night in Mill Valley American Little League play.

Ingemar Vows He'll Be A Fighting Champ

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Heavyweight king Ingemar Johansson—who vows he'll be a "fighting champion" — settled down today at the swank oceanfront home of a wealthy industrialist for a brief Florida vacation before returning to Sweden.

His only plans for the next few days were to rest and "do some fishing and play some golf."

The handsome Johansson landed here yesterday afternoon with his pretty fiancee, his parents, his brother, Rolf, and Rolf's fiancee.

MET AT AIRPORT

He was met at the airport by nearly 200 persons and a wilting 93-degree temperature.

But the hot sunshine didn't seem to bother the cordial, smiling champion, dressed in a double-breasted blue blazer with a Swedish crest on his chest.

"I'd rather be too warm than freeze," he smiled.

Johansson quickly denied reports from Goteburg, Sweden, his hometown, that he plans to fight only twice more, then retire to become a motion picture star. The report came from his doctor, Goesta Carlson.

WON'T RETIRE

"I definitely won't retire after two more fights," Johansson declared. "I'm going to be a fighting champion."

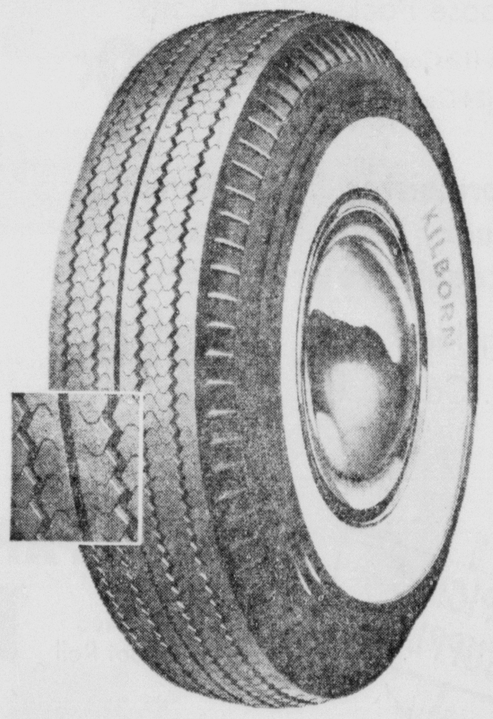

He admitted he "could have" been approached by a movie company but declined to elaborate.

Johansson also rejected reports that he was thinking of Eddie Machen of Redding as an opponent after his rematch with dethroned Floyd Patterson. The new champ knocked Machen out in the first round of a fight in Sweden last year.

"Machen will have to prove himself before I fight him again," Johansson said.

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

S.F. Fans Too Polite; Giants Need Plenty Of Loud, Scrappy Support

CONNOLLY

The other day one of our friends was chewing the fat with Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, long time manager of the gone but not forgotten San Francisco Seals. Quite naturally the conversation shifted from the present day Giants to the Seals of yesteryear.

While our friend quietly shed a salty tear or two into his bucket of beer he fondly recalled the days of the "handkerchief brigade" at Seals Stadium. At this point old Lefty really pic'ed up his ears and becam voluble on the subject.

"I can't understand what ha: happened to the San Francisc baseball fans," our fran quote: O'Doul. "Why, my old handker chief brigade was good for 1(or 12 wins a year for me. An brother, could the Giants us an extra dozen wins right now."

FOR ANY Johnny-come-lately or those with short memories, O'Doul's handkerchief brigade was the name given to the fans in the home plate sector of the stands at Seals Stadium. Whenever a Seal rally was a-borning or the opposing pitcher was getting himself into a jam, out would come the white handkerchiefs of every fan in line of vision with the visiting team's infield and every show-or-blow in the area would be waved with lusty vigor.

MANY A pitcher has blown sky high trying to throw into that background of waving white. And many an infielder has completely lost a hard hit ground ball that meant a winning run for the Seals.

Had the handkerchief brigade been around last week when the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Giants in 12 innings the locals would probably have come out on top and Roy Face would have had his first loss of the year instead of his 12th win and his 17th straight counting last season.

The Pirate reliever was obviously at his poorest, the bags were loaded with Giants, and ith Face throwing half his itches into the dirt the stage as all set. Instead, Eddie Bres-oud, on an early pitch, ground-d back to Face for an easy out out and the game was over.

WHAT HAPPENED to the andkerchief brigade? It seems he old Seal fans are now death-y afraid of being labelled bush" and are leaning over backward to be gentlemen of he school of it matters not to win or lose but how you played he game.

The new Giant fans could take some lessons from the rest of the major league clubs and their supporters. Travel either loop and you'll find teams and fans who play it the old hard way with no holds barred. Pittsburgh itself has no mercy on visiting teams, especially the Giants. Baltimore, over in that other league, has the scrappiest fans of all 16 teams.

AS A team the Giants lack the "take-hold-guy" in the tradition of the old St. Louis Gas-House Gang and many a team before and since. Maybe the fans should take over and fight to win instead of trying to get an "A" in deportment in their sophomore year.

These Giant kids will never get untracked until they catch fire and put together a winning streak. Loud, noisy and unmerciful fan support might be just the ticket. Winners can afford to be bushers but bushers can't afford to be losers.

New Cal Boating Act In Effect Next April

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—About 300,000 boat owners in California have several thousand words of required reading to sit down with sometime between now and next April Fool's Day.

April 1 is the effective date of the new, all-inclusive boating act which was approved by the 1959 Legislature and was expected to be signed into law shortly by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Lost partially in the shuffle of taxes, water, labor and other headline-type legislation, the legislators did a creditable job in approving the bill, AB828 by Assemblyman Rex M. Cunningham (D-Ventura) which provides for operation and equipment of boats, as well as registration.

It was the type of legislation that rarely makes the grade during its first session. This is brand new law, dealing with a group that heretofor has had little or no regulation from the state level. Normally, such bills are studies for two or four years, with compromises made, before they finally are adopted.

Perhaps it was the exploding nature of the popularity of boating, the increasing pressure on the state's waters, and the hodge-podge of confusing local regulations which brought about the prompt action.

BOATS NUMBERED

Whatever the cause, as of next April 1, every undocumented boat using California waters must be numbered. Owners must apply to the Department of Motor Vehicles for first registration, at a fee of $5. It will be renewable each three years, on the owner's birthday, with a $3 renewal charge.

Only exemptions from the registration act will be foreign boats, publicly owned vessels, ship's lifeboats, or undocumented vessels propelled solely by oars, paddles, or electric motors of 10 horsepower or less or sailboats of less than eight feet.

Administration of the registration and numbering will be under the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The Division of Small Craft Harbors, relatively new, has displayed some bureaucratic tendencies in attempting to go afield from its intended purposes and many of the legislators felt the addition of registration to its duties would open the door for run-away expansion.

Regulations for equipment and operation of boats, under AB828, will be enforced by local authorities. Local regulations, not in conflict with the state act, will continue to be permitted.

SAFETY EQUIPMENT

The regulations require various lights, according to type of boat, whistle or horn, bell, life preservers, fire extinguishers, safety devices, mufflers. They prohibit operation of boats in a reckless or dangerous manner or under the influence of liquor or drugs.

The rules also include water skiing, requiring one attendant at all times and prohibiting water skiing between sunset and sunrise. Another section limits liability of boat owners to $10,000-$20,000-$10,000, as in publice liability and property damage policies on automobiles.

8 National Marks Broken In San Leandro Swim Meet

Eight national records were broken at the seventh annual San Leandro Swim Relays Saturday, and the four-year victory string of the Santa Clara Swim Club was snapped by the hosting San Leandro Beavers.

Beavers piled up 190 points to 148 for Santa Clara and the Lakewood Dolphins, tied for second. San Anselmo's Marin Pirates finished 18th among the 22 competing clubs with 8 points.

Berkeley swimmers accounted for five of the new national standards—three by the Berkeley Y and two by Berkeley City Club. Stanford Hills Swim Club, Lakewood Dolphins and the San Pedro Y added one each, to bring to 19 the total of national marks set in the last three Swim Relays.

Individual star this year was Patricia Ruuska, who sparked Berkeley Y teams to three relay records and won the day's only individual race, the women's 500-yard freestyle, against an all-star field including Hawaiian champion Patricia Miles of Honolulu. The winner's sister, Sylvia Ruuska, holds the American record for the event.

Marin Pirates' relay teams that scored included Men's 400 Medley, Dave Corbet, Kirk Laurie, Paul Nordstrom and Pete Sagues, placed fourth in 4:17.9; Boys 15 and 16 400-yard Freestyle, Bob Mosher, Laurie, Jim Dawson and Dick Chambers, placed sixth in 3:36.3; Men's 400 Freestyle, Sagues, Corbet, Nordstrom and Chambers, fifth in 3:44.3.

S. R. Softball Loop Starts 2nd Round

Although the first round winner has yet to be determined, the second round of the Class A Division of the San Rafael Recreation Department Men's Softball League opens tonight at Albert Park with Hamilton Field's 28th Air Division and Novato Merchants meeting in the 7:30 opener while Sohner Tree Service and Pacific Telephone battle in the 9:15 nightcap.

The first round of the five-team league is as confusing as a Chinese fire drill. Hamilton Field, although unbeaten in its four starts, have been tied in two extra-inning thrillers that have been called by the curfew. Therefore, the Jets currently boast a 2-0-2 record while Presidio and Sohner Tree Service are tied for second place with 2-1-1 marks. Pacific Telephone (2-2) and Novato Merchants (0-4) are out of the running for the first round championship.

The first of the ties will be replayed Thursday at 9:15 when Sohners and Hamilton tangle. Their first meeting ended in a 1-1 deadlock. A date to replay the 11-inning marathon staged by Hamilton and Presidio last Tuesday has not been set.

161-Footer Largest Boat In Transpac

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The 161-foot schooner Goodwill is the largest boat entered in the Transpacific Yacht Race that starts July 4—and the only one without a handicap allowance.

Added to her actual running time will be 12 hours and six minutes.

All the other entries, including the second largest craft—John Scripps' Novia Del Mar out of San Diego—will be given deductible time allowances insuring each an equal chance for victory over the 2225-mile crossing.

The winner will be the boat with the best corrected time.

The smallest boats in the race—three 36-footers — will get the most time deduction. The 1957 race was run by the 50-foot sloop Legend, that had a corrected time of 11 days, 41 minutes and 46 seconds.

Forty-one boats are entered in this year's race. Two early entries, the Orient of San Francisco and the Minoan of Balboa, withdrew.

Gonsalves In TVer Friday

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Professional boxing returns to Atlantic City for the first time in two years with a lightweight bout on Friday night between Len Matthews of Philadelphia and Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland.

The fight, to be held in the ballroom of Convention Hall, will be a pre-convention event for the national Shrine conclave. It will be carrier on network (NBC) radio and television.

Rudell Stitch, an up-and-coming welterweight from Louisville, boxes in his home town's Freedom Hall tomorrow against Rudy Sawyer of New York.

This is the usual Wednesday night radio and television ABC show.

Stitch beat Guy Sumlin, Jimmy Beecham and Gaspar Ortega in his most recent starts. Sawyer, who has lost only two fights in 21 starts, bowed to Benny "Kid" Paret on a controversial decision June 1 at New York.

Mexican Woman Wins U.S. Fencing Title

FIESTA FLAMENCO IN THE AFTERNOON

Daniel and Luisa Maravilla of Novato, currently at the Purple Onion in San Francisco on Sunday night programs, will entertain visitors at the Marin Art and Garden Fair with the art of the flamenco dance and guitar at 2 p.m. Saturday, on the stage of the Northgate area on the Ross fairgrounds. The young recent arrivals to the United States were proprietors of the "Rincon Flamenco" night club at McNear's Beach near San Rafael which closed a few months ago. The team will be part of varied entertainment offered fair visitors during its five-day run tomorrow through Sunday.

Has Your First Aid Slipped?

Techniques Differ Since World War II

By WILLIAM C. OWEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today, a week or maybe a year from now you may have only seconds to save a life. But if you are like most Americans, you're not well trained to take action.

The crisis would require instant, correct first aid.

You may have had the training long ago. But now it's outmoded. This is especially true if you're one of the 15 million living veterans of World War II or one of the millions of women who took the training as a patriotic wartime duty.

Since the war, four major first aid techniques—control of bleeding, artificial respiration, cold injuries and transportation methods—have been reversed. What was formerly the thing to do is now the dangerous thing to do.

A host of other minor treatments have been changed and some new techniques initiated.

But the public's knowledge has not kept pace.

"The majority of people have some first aid knowledge, but while some of it is good, some of it is bad," says Earl H. Breon, director of first aid service for the National Red Cross.

"What the first aider does can make the difference between whether the accident victim lives or dies . . . or whether he lies in a hospital for months or soon goes home to his family," Breon says.

The skills of first aid are most needed at home, he adds. "Every parent needs it, mothers especially."

Accidents killed almost three times as many children in 1957 as any disease and are the leading cause of death among persons aged 1 to 36. By far the greatest number of injuries were in the home—4,200,000—and the second highest number of deaths—28,000.

With such a clear need for modern first aid training, why do Americans generally bypass it?

"First aid training does not appeal to individuals; it is a group thing," says Breon. "I don't know of anyone who's walked into a Red Cross chapter and said 'I want a first aid course.'

"People get first aid training when a group—a club, an organization of some kind—decides to sponsor it as a project."

To bring your first aid skills up to date, here are the major revised techniques—

CONTROL OF BLEEDING

In case of severe bleeding, apply direct pressure over wound area with a clean cloth or, for quick action, with your hand. A major loss of blood can cause death within less than a minute. Bandage cloth over wound. Do not remove it.

Tourniquets should be used rarely, only when severe bleeding involves an extremity in which large arteries are severed, or in cases of partial or complete severance of a body part. A tourniquet — put it near the wound—should not be released. Former advice was to release it every 15 minutes. Get victim to hospital quickly.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Most persons will die within six minutes or less if breathing stops completely. Artificial repiration should be started at once . . . death may be seconds away.

The back pressure-arm lift method is recommended for general use.

COLD INJURIES

Firm pressure with the warm hand against frostbitten area is helpful. Rubbing it with the hand or snow is definitely harmful.

Cover frozen part with woolen material and provide extra clothing or blankets. Bring victime indoors, give him a warm drink. Quickly warm the injured area if still cold and numb by immersing in water at body temperature (90 to 100 degrees F.) but not hot water, or by wrapping in warm blankets. Handle frozen part with greatest care. Avoid excessive heat.

Once part is re-warmed, encourage patient to exercise injured fingers or toes.

Prolonged exposure to cold: If breathing has stopped, begin artificial respiration. Bring victim into warm room quickly. Wrap him in warm blankets or place him in a tub of warm (78 to 82 degrees 3.) water. When he reacts, give him hot drink.

MINOR WOUNDS: Clean with soap and water. Cover with sterile dressing. Do not use antiseptic.

BURNS: Cover all burns, no matter what degree, with dry sterile dressings. If victim suffers shock, do not apply heat but keep him warm.

POISONING: Where cause of poisoning is unknown, administer antidote of two parts of crumbled burnt toast, one part strong tea and one part milk of magnesia. Do not use this when the victim is in coma or has symptoms of convulsions or exhaustion.

TETANUS: Danger from lockjaw is now associated with all wounds—not merely with cuts from rusty nails, etc. Wounds should receive medical attention and possible immunization against tetanus.

TRANSPORTATION: New methods are complicated. The key is proper instruction and practice.

Breon says there are "thousands of cases where people have done things that called for first aid skills . . . skills they read or heard about or saw on television." But he says by far the best way to prepare for an emergency is to take a first aid course.

Free courses are offered by 3,700 chapters of the Red Cross.

Breon says every home should have the 241-page Red Cross first aid textbook, and every home and automobile a basic aid kit. He adds:

"The price of your life may be 75 cents for the textbook and the time it takes to study it."

Stoneman Ends Career As Military Base

PITTSBURG (AP) — Camp Stoneman, which processed two million men for World War II and the Korean War, ends its career as a military base today.

The last soldier on duty, Capt. Richard Greaney, will relinquish his command in a simple retreat ceremony at 5 p.m.

The General Services Administration is appraising Stoneman's 1,839 acres and will put it up for sale except for eight acres the Army is keeping for a reserve training center.

No federal agencies have asked for the land, but the City of Pittsburg wants to acquire the sewer and water systems and land, including enough for a park and rifle range.

The Pittsburg Unified School District has asked for 89 acres as building sites for new schools.

Seminary Names Asst. Professor

Dr. Esther L. Johnson of New York City has been appointed assistant professor of Christian education at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Prior to her appointment, she was director of Christian education at the Hitchcock Presbyterian Church in Scarsdale, N. Y.

Dr. Johnson was born in New York City and attended public schools there before entering Smith College in Northampton, Mass., where she received a B.A. degree. She obtained an M.A. from Union Theological Seminary and a doctorate from Columbia University in New York. Her appointment will become effective Aug. 1.

Governor Signs Record Fund Bill For Schools

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's public schools will get a record $636,500,000 in state aid during the year starting tomorrow.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed the big school apportionment bill yesterday, ahead of the $2,225,612,643 state budget — also a precedent-setting figure. He has until midnight to sign the budget bill into law.

The school bill by Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes (R-Claremont) provides a $24,300,000 increase over the present spending rate. It's actually 61 million dollars above this year's figure, counting automatic apportionment to meet increased enrollment.

"It has become increasingly necessary that we provide further assistance to help solve our multiplying school problems," Brown said. "I am gratified that the Legislature saw fit to approve this important step."

Under the measure, the state will contribute an average of $201.10 per pupil per year, compared with the present $193.37.

Most of the increase will go for equalization aid to poorer districts and special education programs for physically and mentally handicapped children.

Basic aid — the apportionment to all school districts regardless of size or wealth — stays at $125 per pupil per year.

The state Education Department originally sought 666 million dollars, but the Legislature trimmed it down to meet Brown's request. State support at the present level, including the added enrollments, would have totaled 612 million dollars.

Stars Tour E. Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Hollywood film stars Rita Hayworth, Van Heflin and David Niven toured Communist-ruled East Berlin for more than an hour yesterday.

The three stars were staying in West Berlin to attend the International Film Festival.

Stiffer Penalties Due For Selling Liquor To Minors

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Liquor stores and bars which knowingly cater to minors will face new and stiffer state penalties starting July 15.

Thomas W. Martin, state liquor director, announced the new penalties yesterday, saying willful violators "should be recognized as criminals and treated as such."

"A sale to a minor under willful or negligent circumstances warrants a more severe penalty than that imposed for a sale by a conscientious and responsible licensee as the result of a reasonable error in judgment," Martin said in a report to the Governor's Council.

He announced this penalty schedule, effective July 15:

Sales to minors, 15 to 30 days suspension.

Permitting minors to drink, 10 to 20 days.

Permitting minors to remain on licensed premises, 10 to 20 days.

Under the Board of Equalization, which previously administered liquor laws, the normal penalty was 15 days. Martin's predecessor, Russell A. Munro, knocked it down to 10 days.

Martin said violations involving minors make up the biggest single class of disciplinary actions against liquor licensees.

He noted, also, that the California Youth Authority has found a definite relationship of drinking by minors to juvenile delinquency.

Most violations are the result of negligence, he said, and added: ". . . Continued laxity in this field cannot be tolerated."

He said, however, that careful bartenders or dealers sometimes are fooled by a minor's mature appearance, and this is not the type of licensee he seeks to crack down on.

The director said that of 710 accusations filed against licensees between Jan. 1 and May 31 this year, 52 per cent involved sale to minors.

Of these, 206 involved off-sale places—79 per cent for selling to minors.

By areas, cases involving minors represented 41.5 per cent in Southern California, 65.9 per cent in the Northern Coastal area, and 64.1 in the Central Valley area.

Sculptor Moves Into El Paseo

Professor Carlo Talliabue, internationally known sculptor moved into Mill Valley's El Paseo shopping arcade Saturday. He will teach and execute commissions in answer to Marin's recent demand for a return to the classics, according to Nevin Kempthorne, executive secretary of the Artist Associates Gallery in El Paseo.

Talliabue, who is a member of Artist Associates, will occupy a studio adjoining the gallery.

"We feel that his coming to Mill Valley is evidence of the fact that Marin is drawing eminent artists to this side of the bridge," said Mrs. Kempthorne.

Talliabue, who has been called a "new Bellini," plans to teach old school academy techniques in present sculpture and painting commencing July 6.

Sausalito Council Meet

The Sausalito City Council will hold a special meeting in the city hall tonight at 8 o'clock to take final action on formal adoption of the 1959-60 municipal budget, according to City Manager Donald A. Duerr.

CLEVER GAMBIT—Fourth of July guests will get such a kick out of grilling their own hors d'oeuvres over a flower pot grill, that they'll never miss what the Big Cheese is up to until he yells, "Come and Get It!" Sausages, prawns and pickles make mix-your-own kabobs.

THIRSTY MAMA!

Wisdom Is Poured By The Pitcherful

It's a wise mother who gives some consideration to the sort of hot-weather beverages her family drinks. Why not start your family on a better summer drink habit and serve lemonade, the drink that's more cooling, refreshing and healthful, too. Everybody loves delicious, naturally good lemonade and nutritionally it makes sense because lemonade provides vitamin C, the vitamin both young and old need daily to fight hot-weather fatigue.

Keep a pitcher of lemonade on hand in the refrigerator so your family will be able to help themselves whenever they wish. Nowadays, thanks to sunkist frozen concentrate for lemonade, you can make a pitcherful in a jiffy for as little as 2½ cents per 6-ounce glass.

Garnish your lemonade with a flourish. For instance, lemon slices add a cool note. Push a drinking straw through a lemon slice, tuck in a mint sprig and top off with a gay paper parasol and a tangy glass of lemonade becomes a California Lemonade Coolie. Other tempting garnishes are lemon slices cut in pretty shapes and studded with cloves, small bunches of seedless, green grapes, fresh strawberries, mint sprigs, maraschino cherries and whole-cinnamon sticks.

Even if it's 95° in the shade, a glass of lemonade will cool you off and make you feel refreshed. How about a glassful now? It always hits the spot.

If you're in the mood for something fancy, try this San Francisco Float or California Lemonade Cherry Blossoms.

SAN FRANCISCO FLOAT
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

1 6-ounce can Sunkist frozen concentrate for lemonade
2 eggs
3 cups milk
1 pint strawberry ice cream

Beat concentrate for lemonade and eggs together until well blended. Gradually add milk, beating constantly. Pour into glasses; top with scoop of ice cream. Serve with straws and spoons.

CALIFORNIA LEMONADE CHERRY BLOSSOMS
(Makes about 4 cups)

1 6-ounce can sunkist frozen concentrate for lemonade
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
4 cups finely cracked ice
Maraschino cherries

Place concentrate for lemonade, cherry juice and ice in chilled blendor. Put top on blendor. Run blendor until consistency of snow, about 20 seconds. Serve in sherbet glasses with straws. Garnish with cherries.

Skillet Version Of Veal Kidneys

Veal kidneys are one genuine delicacy that is not overly hard on the budget. You can use beef kidney, as well, soaking for half an hour or so in wine or mild vinegar solution. The same treatment mellows the flavor of beef or lamb liver, which incidentally combines well with kidneys.

SKILLET KIDNEYS

Ingredients: 2 veal kidneys (1 to 1¼ pounds), 2 tablespoons peanut oil, 1¼ cups (1 large) thin onion strips, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, 4 tablespoons sauterne.

Method: Remove outer membranes from kidneys; split in half; with small sharp knife cut out white veins and fat.

Wash in cold water and drain; slice into ½-inch pieces. Heat oil in 10-inch skillet; add onion and brown lightly.

Add kidneys, salt and a dash of pepper; cook and stir over moderately low heat for a few minutes. Add 2 tablespoons sauterne; cover skillet tightly; cook over low heat until kidneys are cooked through. Add remaining 2 tablespoons sauterne; heat. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

Molasses Chutney

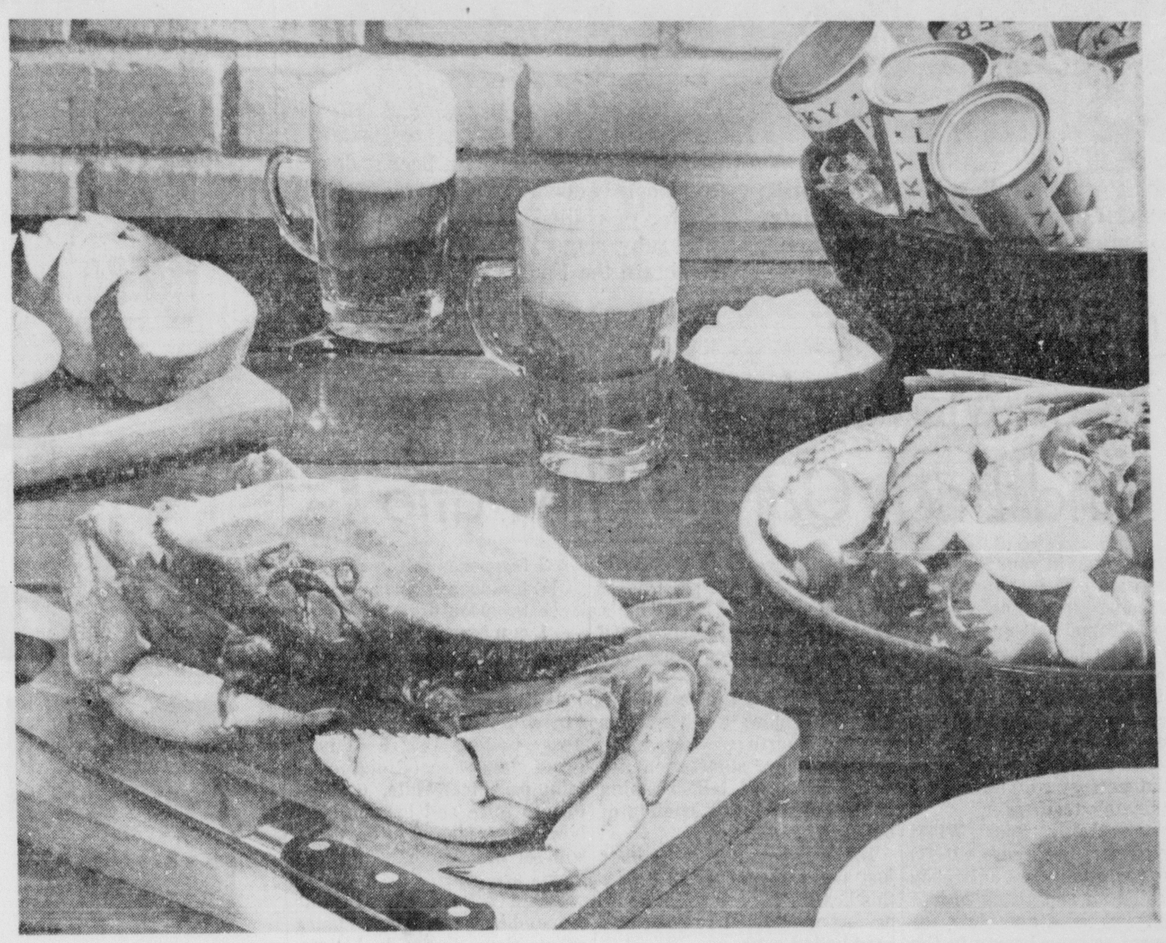

1 can (20-ounce) apple slices
¼ cup unsulphured molasses
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ cup raisins
1 teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon ginger

Turn all ingredients into a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Serve hot or cold with broiled chicken.

Yield: Approximately 3 cups.

Collect Them

Whenever you see a recipe featuring egg whites take note of it; keep a collection of these rules at hand so that you can pick and choose from them when you have extra whites in the refrigerator.

COOL CELEBRATION—Leave the heat to the fireworks and concentrate on something superbly cooling for the Fourth of July—iced cracked crab and cold beer. Take a tip from the continentals and make your own mayonnaise with continental savoir faire—namely olive oil.

BARBECUE GAMBIT

Wily Chef Diverts Advisors With Tidbit Grill Operation

For your next barbecue party, here's a sure-fire way to foil the "grandstand quarterbacks"—guests who simply must offer advice on how the fire should be made or food cooked.

Let 'em cook their own. Not the main course (that's Dad's domain), but the hors d'oeuvres. And not on the main grill—but on a table-top grill made out of a flower pot.

Making the grill is simply a matter of putting together a few common items. Take a large, wider-than-tall flower pot. Line its bottom and sides with double-thickness, heavy aluminum foil and put in about three inches of gravel (or sand if you're at the beach). Place three or four charcoal briquets in the center and cover the pot with a square of hardware cloth (wire mesh), turning down the corners to secure it to the pot. If using it on a table, place pot on a trivet or asbestos pad for extra protection.

Light up the coals and you're in business—ready for each guest to take his own skewer, select his own hors d'oeuvre and cook it according to how he thinks it should be done.

Meanwhile, keep everyone cool and contented with all America's warm-weather favorite, ice-cold beer. For extra convenience, get "one-way" bottles—no deposit, no return, no bottle saving, no lugging empties back to the store.

Try these suggestions for cook - 'em - yourself hors d'oeuvres, accompanied by savory peasant bread:

COOK-EM-YOURSELF HORS D'OEUVRES—TABLE-TOP STYLE

½ cup salad oil
¼ cup soy sauce
2-3 drops ready-to-use garlic juice
Dash cayenne pepper
3-4 whole allspices
2 jars cocktail franks
1 package cooked shrimps
Assorted pickles

Make a marinade of oil, soy sauce, garlic juice and seasonings. Place franks, shrimp and pickles in separate dishes or containers. Spoon marinade over each. Let stand for an hour, turning ingredients a number of times so marinade flavor penetrates thoroughly. Drain when ready to serve. Let guests string their own favorite combinations on bamboo skewers*—frank and pickle, or shrimp and pickle, or all three together, as they wish. These are then seared quickly over hot coals and eaten right off the skewer. Serves 6-8.

*Soak sharp end of bamboo skewers in water before using to prevent burning.

SAVORY PEASANT BREAD

Brown-and-serve French loaf
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon ready-to-use garlic or onion juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Combine and melt butter or margarine, garlic or onion juice, Worcestershire sauce. Cut diagonal slashes in French loaf almost to bottom. Pull and twist a little to separate slashes, taking care not to break through into slices. Pour prepared savory sauce over top and into loaf slashes. Wrap in heavy foil and heat on barbecue at least 10 minutes. Serves six.

Just In Case You'd Rather Not Slave Over Hot Grill All Day

Summertime is lucky time for the family cook. Cold cracked crab, a snapping fresh green salad, crusty French bread and chilled beer will require minimum time in the kitchen, no oven heat, and is sure to win applause from the master of the house.

Make sure the beer is chilled—but not too much—for full flavor, and do make a tangy mayonnaise to complement the delicate flavor of the crab.

MAYONNAISE

1 whole egg
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup salad oil
1 cup olive oil

Drop egg into bowl, add salt and vinegar. Beat in salad oil gradually with rotary hand beater or electric beater. Add lemon juice, and gradually beat in olive oil.

Store in refrigerator.

For a special taste flavor with crab, stir in to taste crushed tarragon, curry powder and tobasco sauce. Note: Use of vinegar is important, keeping mayonnaise fresh longer.

Plan Ahead

Count on six to eight portions per quart of ice cream if you are serving it plain or with a sauce.

Emporer-At Grill Prepares Steak Bonaparte For Stags

Dad will be labeled an expert chef when he serves a stag party sandwich of Steak Bonapart and Glazed Onion Slices. And he doesn't need a Ph.D in cooking—they're easy to fix.

For the Steaks Bonapart, choose ½-inch club steaks, and trim the fat. For three or four steaks, melt two tablespoons garlic butter on hot sandwich grill at highest setting. Dip steaks in it to coat; cook fast, about five minutes per side.

Push steaks aside and squeeze a tablespoon of lemon juice on grill; dash on equal Worcestershire mix.; Quickly swish steak through, and season.

An electric skillet is just the ticket for Glazed Onion Slices. In it melt butter or margarine to cover the bottom generously. Add ½-inch slices of onion in a single layer; salt, sprinkle lightly with sugar. Cover, and cook at low heat till tender.

Onions take about 20 minutes to cook, so start before fixing the steaks. At the last minute, toast garlic-buttered French bread (thin, bias-cut slices) on the grill.

Perch a Steak Bonapart on a slim-jim slice of toasted French bread to catch the sizzling juices. Spoon a little pan sauce over, too. Serve with tomato and Glazed Onion Slices.

For a starter, offer cups of hot beef broth with lemon slices afloat. And to top off the whole affair, strawberry-shortcake sundaes are a good choice.

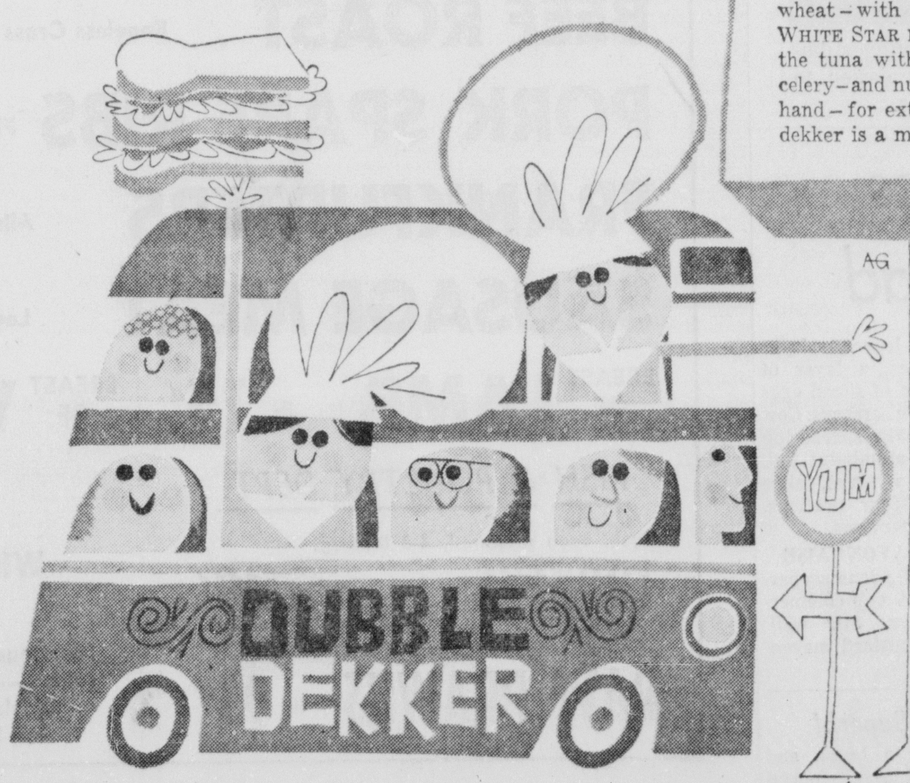

Smoked Salmon Snack

These will make a hit at your next cocktail party. Cut sliced Nova Scotia salmon in oblong strips, fill each with minced parsley tossed with powdered cumin (for ½ lb. can of smoked salmon, you will need ½ cup minced parsley and ½ teaspoon cumin). Marinate in Spanish olive oil with a sprinkling of lemon juice.

Ensalada De Tomatoes

Ripe garden-fresh tomatoes need only a simple dressing of good Spanish olive oil. First sprinkle the tomato slices with a little old fashion garlic salad dressing mix, pour over a generous amount of olive oil, let stand 15 or 20 minutes before serving. (No vinegar needed). Serve with lots of crusty bread (unbuttered) to scoop up the luscious sauce.

TOMATO BEER ASPIC—At last! A tomato aspic with a body which will appeal to men, as well as a stubtlety to entice the most fastidious women. For a hot afternoon, when beer slides so smoothly down the throat, crown a platter of chilled fresh seafood with this ruby ring. What better way to celebrate the Fourth of July.

LUSTY ASPIC

Beer Moves Into The Kitchen And Back Out To The Patio

Do the men in your life think tomato aspic is just for ladies' luncheons? Then there is one recipe—Tomato Beer Aspic—which they haven't tried.

Beer is as sophisticated in the kitchen as at the table. It mixes with other flavors in a diplomatic way, yet making its presence felt in its malt flavor — the perfect counterbalance for tomato's tartness.

Beer not only goes WITH many foods, but goes INTO them, too, adding not only body but often an appetizing bronze sheen. Pot roast and stew, for instance, become hearty in the true sense of the word. Spaghetti sauce mellows without so many hours of simmering.

With fruits — yes, fruits — beer lends an indefinable something which sets your guests to guessing long past the last spoonful. Use it as the liquid with fruit-flavored gelatins or as a marinade for melon balls. Now there is a rare treat! (Of course, you'll never know until you try it.)

No better time to revive this old, old cooking tradition than for the Fourth of July, when the warmth of summer invites the pouring of tall, foaming glasses of that most cooling of beverages.

Dishes prepared with beer just naturally go with it, like this hearty Tomato Beer Aspic, perfect with fresh seafood and hard-boiled eggs.

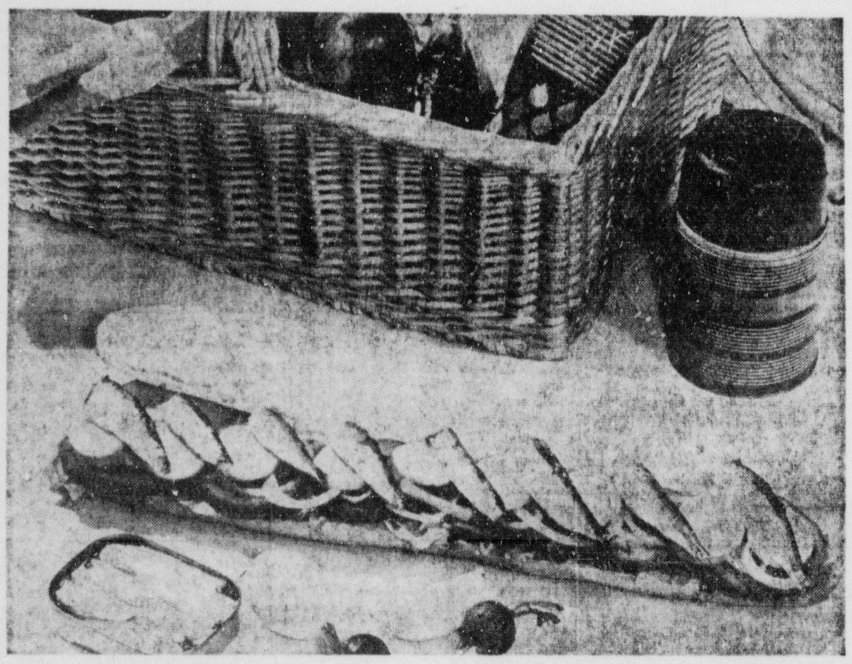

TOMATO BEER ASPIC

2 env. plain gelatin*
¼ cup cold water
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 teaspoon crushed basil leaves
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 cup tomato juice
1 cup beer
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Dissolve gelatin in cold water, add seasonings and place over boiling water in heatproof glass or metal cup for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, combine tomato juice and beer in large bowl. Add lemon juice. (Mold will set more quickly if ingredients are cold).

Strain gelatin mixture into tomato-beer mixture, using coarse sieve dipped in hot water. Stir to combine thoroughly. Pour into 1 pint mold and chill until set.

*Note: more gelatin is needed for mixtures containing fruit or vegetable acids, such as tomato juice.

SARDINIAN HERO — You hardly need a recipe. Just take a good look at the picture and carry on. However, there are some tricks and suggestions to make the next picnic easier to manage and more delicious.

Heroes Are Made For Picnics And This One Is Made Ahead

One huge sandwich, made on a long, long loaf of crispy, crusty French bread, is enough to serve four hungry people!

The tasy filling of lettuce, tomatoes, sliced sweet onions, hard cooked eggs and meaty Maine sardines is a meal in itself and saves all the fuss and bother of preparing and wrapping lots of individual sandwiches. The one mammoth sandwich, wrapped in aluminum foil, is easily transported in the picnic basket and sliced in four sections right at the picnic site.

While the filling may vary according to taste, the Maine sardines ensure the protein growing youngsters need. They are an interesting flavor accent, too, when combined with eggs and garden fresh tomatoes. Cheese may be added, if you wish; sliced radishes or cucumbers give a crunchiness. Minced scallions or chives may be substituted for the sweet onions.

In the picnic basket, be sure to include some fresh fruit and bottles of your favorite beverage. It's a picnic in a minute — and oh, such a good one!

MAINE SARDINE HERO SANDWICH

Split loaf of French or Italian bread in half lengthwise. Spread bottom half thickly with mustard mayonnaise. Cover with lettuce leaves, a layer of tomato slices, a layer of onion rings, one of sliced eggs and one of Maine sardines. Cover with mayonnaise spread top half. Wrap in aluminum foil. When ready to serve, slice crosswise into four portions. Yield: 4 large servings.

MUSTARD MAYONNAISE

Add two tablespoons prepared mustard to ½ cup commercial mayonnaise. Stir well. Yield: ½ cup mustard mayonnaise.

Cinnamon Pears

Cinnamon Pears are a flavorful and colorful accompaniment to meats. To prepare, combine 1 cup sugar, 1 cup water and ½ cup red cinnamon candies in a saucepan; boil 5 minutes. Peel, halve and core 5 pears; add to syrup and simmer until tender, about 7 minutes. Chill.

Fish Should Flake

To test fish to find out whether it is done, poke it with a fork and note whether it flakes. Use a visual test, too! The transparent raw flesh should have turned opaque.

Sounds Superb!

Ever concoct a bacon and egg salad? Add crisply-cooked crumbled bacon to salad greens, sieved hard-cooked egg to the salad dressing. Season with freshly-ground pepper.

Old But Good

Old-fashioned cooks found they made their flakiest pie crust fro mhalf lard, half butter for the shortening. Still a good trick!

Rare Hand-Me-Down Recipes Captured In Spanish Cookbook

A collection of authentic Spanish recipes is hard to come by because Spain is a country where even today printed cook books are scarce. Instead recipes are handed down word-of-mouth from mother to daughter, master chef to apprentice. One of the few authentic Spanish cook books printed in the U.S. is "The Home Book of Spanish Cookery," by Marina Pereyra de Aznar, written in collaboration with Nina Froud (Barrows, $3.75).

Naturally many of the recipes in the book call for sherry, which is to be expected since Spain is the land where all true sherries come from. One quite delectable recipe in the book is the Spanish version of liver with bacon and onions—so delicious even those who normally do not care for liver should like this.

CALVES' LIVER AL JEREZ

Fry 2 slices diced bacon until crisp; add 1 large chopped onion, cook until onion is soft. Push to one side or remove from pan; add 1½ pounds calves' liver, sliced thin, cook over reduced heat until lightly browned on each side. Add 1 tablespoon flour, blend until smooth, then add ¼ cup Spanish sherry, amontillado type, and cook 1 minute. Add a cup of chicken stock or 1 chicken bouillon cube and 1 cup water; replace bacon-onion mixture and simmer 5 minutes. Add salt if needed. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Suggested menu: As the appetizer, serve shrimps mayonnaise with dry Spanish sherry; for the main course, the Calves' Liver al Jerez, hot cooked rice, peas, and tomato salad; for dessert, jellied fruit mold, coffee or tea.

Frost It

Quick frosting: Bake a chocolate cake in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. As soon as you take the cake from the oven sprinkle the top surface with semi-sweet chocolate pieces from a six-ounce package. Return to the oven until chocolate softens — about 5 minutes. Spread the chocolate evenly and sprinkle with nuts.

Bing Pickles

Bing Cherry Pickles are truly unusual. We think you'll enjoy them. To prepare: Combine 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons salt, 1 quart vinegar and 1 pint of water; heat to boiling. Cool slightly. Wash and sort about 4 lbs. Bing cherries (do not step or pit). Fill sterilized pint or quart canning jars with the cherries. Add the syrup to within ¼ inch of top of jars. Wipe rim; seal. Allow to stand at least 2 to 3 weeks before serving.

Tom Thumb Chapter Fetes New Members

Four new active members were welcomed into the Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society recently at the home of the new president, Mrs. Roger Graham in Kentfield.

The new members are Mesdames Walter Noll of Tiburon; Martin Stuart of Belvedere; Sage Morris and Robert Silberberg of Kentfield.

Also present were those members who were accepted into the chapter since January: the Mesdames Laurie Felton of Ross; James Zeigler of Tiburon, Gerald Wilchek and Bernard Bloch of Mill Valley.

New officers who will serve with Mrs. Graham include Mesdames Joseph Cranmer, vice president; Fred Depuis, treasurer; Andrew Kozak, recording sercetary; Randolph Esplin, corresponding secretary; David Ring, publicity chairman, and Harry Jacobson, past president.

They were present to introduce the new members to the chapter's activities for raising funds to help the Children's Home Society carry on its statewide program of adoption services for the natural parent, the adoptive couple, and the child who needs a home.

COLOR OF ORIENT KEYNOTES IMPRESSIVE WEDDING RITES

The color of the Orient predominated in the wedding of Taeko Mabuchi and Hon Quen Lee which took place on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Community Church in Mill Valley. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eijior Mabuchi of Tokyo, Japan has been attending the College of Marin for two years as an exchange student. The bridegroom, a Chinese, is a graduate of the University of California. He has a position with the State of California and he and his bride will make their home in Sacramento. His parents reside in Los Angeles.

For the wedding Taeko wore a gorgeous Japanese wedding kimona. Embroidered in rich and brilliant colors on the white satin brocade were wedding symbols, pine trees, birds and cherry blossom. The obi was red and gold. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and a cluster of these flowers were in her hair. She was given in marriage by T. J. Fahay and Mrs. Ruth Boyer of Corte Madera, with whom Taeko has made her home while attending college, took the role of the bride's mother.

Mrs. Bruce Schoenfeld, matron of honor, wore pale green shantung and Miss Eileen Clancy's gown was pale pink. The dresses had fitted bodices, rounded necklines, short sleeves and bell skirts. The attendants wore tiny hats of white daisies, veiled, and carried French bouquets of the same flowers.

Ronald C. Mims was best man and Gene A. Williams, the usher. Following the ceremony at which the Rev. Gordon L. Foster officiated, a reception took place in the church lounge.

Details Given For League's Fair Booth

"Your Hospital on Guard for You" will be the theme of the Marin General Hospital Service League's Booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair, July 2 to 6, according to Mrs. John Kyle, chairman.

The three walls of the booth will be lined with pictures of the various departmental activities and facilities. Interspersed with the pictorial story will be clever cartoons of Dr. Martin Long depicting the role of Pink Ladies at Marin General.

Additional members of the Booth committee are Dr. Wilson P. Goddard, Dr. Martin Long, Mrs. Edward E. Ranahan, arrangements, and Mrs. Robert McKendry, staffing.

The booth will be staffed during the fair by Pink Ladies in uniform. Available at the booth will be a History of the Service League, Pink Ladies' Volunteer Manual and a pertinent hospital brochure.

Here From Hollywood

Prof Gerard X. Quinn of Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. George Bruggeman of North Hollywood are guests of Walter D. Kephart at his home, Erlach Cottage in San Anselmo. The visitors came north, particularly, to attend the Marin Art and Garden Fair. Mr. Bruggeman who, for many years held the title of champion bicycle racer of Europe, is now an outstanding stunt actor in the movies.

Barbara Ann Levin, Richard Read Exchange Nuptial Vows Sunday

In a 2 o'clock ceremony Sunday in the San Anselmo First Presbyterian Church, Barbara Ann Levin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Levin of San Anselmo, became the bride of Richard Gene Read of Berkeley.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Read of Santa Rosa.

Large urns of white gladioli, blue delphinium and Esther Reed daisies were at the altar for the double ring ceremony with the Rev. Arnold B. Come officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of Swiss organdie fashioned Princess style with short sleeves and Sabrina neckline. Embroidered organdie magnolia appliques were on the bodice. Her ballerina length veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Robert Rosen, the bride's aunt of San Francisco, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mesdames Monte Upshaw of Berkeley; Robert Birkie of Oakland, and Helen Oreb of Los Angeles, Mary Metheny, Oakland. Vicki Bergez, the bride's cousin of Greenbrae, was junior bridesmaid.

They were gowned in white Swiss organdie over powder blue taffeta. They had fitted bodices with unpressed pleats over the hipline and white embroidery trimmed the necklines and bodices. Blue horsehair picture hats with blue ribbon and white embroidery to match the details of the dress completed their ensemblies. They carried cascade bouquets of garnet roses with pale blue nylon net streamers.

Donald Read of Sacramento served his brother as best man. Ushers included Leonard Read, the bridegroom's brother of Santa Rosa; Warren Levin, the bride's brother of San Anselmo; Dick Paynter, Oakland; San Devito, Concord, and Nate Cacianti of Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Levin wore a beige silk shantung sheath with matching accessories and cream Vanda orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua silk shantung dress with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

A reception for 200 guests followed at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley where Loquat branches, white gladioli and blue delphinium were used in arrangements. Mrs. Thomas Miller of San Rafael was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a beige and toast shantung two piece ensemble with beige accessories and orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California where she was vice president of Associated Students, a member of Mortar Board and California Club. She is a physical education teacher at Tamalpais High School. Warren Levin, who is a law student at Boalt Hall, University of California, is her brother.

The bridegroom was graduated from Santa Rosa High School and attended St. Mary's College, Berkeley. He is a graduate of the University of Tulsa, Okla. For the past two years he was head football coach at St. Mary's College. He was recently appointed head football coach at San Rafael High School.

District Deputy Holds School Of Instruction For Rebekahs

Mrs. Harry E. Wall, newly elected district deputy president of District 61 of the Rebekah Assembly of California, held a school of instruction at the recent meeting of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305.

Mrs. Wall, who was escorted to a seat of honor by conductor Mrs. Tony Fontes, also spoke of the five point program of Mrs. John McFarland, president of the Rebekah Assembly. The program includes the IOOF home in Saratoga, children's home in Gilroy, Scholarship Fund, the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, and the Youth camp at Sonora. Lodges in District 61 will support the remodeling of the kitchen at the children's home.

During the business session conducted by noble grand Mrs. Myrtle Dahl, Mrs. Fontes was appointed as Blythedale chairman for the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, and it was announced that Mrs. John Leutke had been appointed as good fellowship chairman of District 61.

Accompanying Mrs. Wall were Mesdames Leo Berger, district deputy marshal; Mary Bruni, noble grand; Arthur Meyer, musicians; James Rowe, district press chairman; and Lance Devericks, all from Golden Star Rebekah Lodge of San Rafael.

Following the meeting refreshments were served under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Roberts, who was assisted by Mesdames Merton Wells and Ella Smith.

After the next meeting on July 9, Mrs. Barbara Ridgway will demonstrate for the Home Embroidery Co. a new method of embroidering with paints instead of thread.

Harold Owen, past grand of Mount Tamalpais Lodge No. 399, IOOF, and a member of Blythedale lodge, is the newly appointed district deputy grand master of District No. 11, IOOF, of California.

The finance committee will meet in the Anderson Room in the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley tomorrow evening, July 1, at 8:30 p.m.

Carolynne Winfield Weds Timothy Farrell

St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur, was the setting for the marriage Saturday of Carolynne Winfield and Timothy K. Farrell.

Four arrangements of white gladioli and stock adorned the church for the 3 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. James Healy.

When Carolynne was given in marriage by her father, Homer Winfield of Mill Valley, she was wearing a floor length gown of white organdie chiffon fashioned with square neckline and short sleeves. The empire waistline was marked with little satin bows down the back of the bouffant skirt to the hemline.

A circlet of orange blossoms held her elbow length veil, and she carried a shower of white chrysanthemums and butterfly orchids.

The maid of honor, Judy Grant of Mill Valley, wore a ballerina length frock having a light blue organdie chiffon skirt and a blue and green print top. Her headdress was a flat tailored bow with brim veil matching her dress, and her flowers were a nosegay of pink baby roses and carnations.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Frank P. McClain of Larkspur and Thomas Farrell of San Francisco, was his brother Patrick. John Cleaveland of Mill Valley showed guests to their seats.

The mother of the bride was attired in an aqua blue dress of organdie chiffon, a white hat, and her accessories were white. The mother of the bridegroom wore a green and white silk print dress and a white feather hat. Her accessories were also white, and both mothers had corsages of white butterfly orchids.

The young couple greeted some 150 guests at a reception held after the ceremony at the Tamalpais Centre Women's Clubhouse in Kentfield. It was decorated with white carnations, gladioli and stock. On the bride's table stood a three-tiered cake topped with wedding bells and encircled at the base with white carnations and ferns.

Stephanie Kapausouz of Larkspur was in charge of the guestbook, and assisting with the serving were Betty Hoag and Judy Chambers of Mill Valley, Jane Herman of Sausalito and Linda Ramey of Corte Madera.

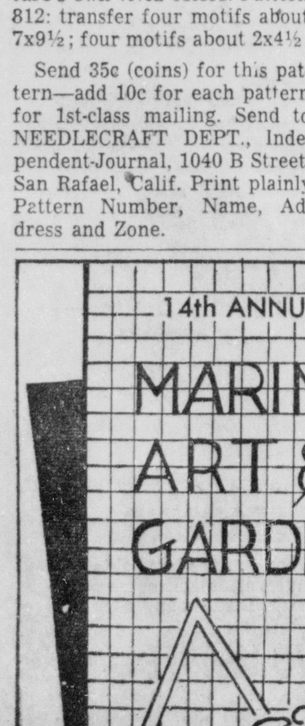

For traveling, the bride wore a blue wool suit and black velvet hat with black accessories.

The newlyweds plan to take an apartment in Palo Alto or Menlo Park.

Carolynne was graduated in June from Tamalpais High School, where she was one of the yell leaders. She has a brother Patrick.

Timothy was graduated from Tamalpais High School at the same time and plans to attend Stanford University in preparation for teaching credentials. He has another brother, Michael. Among those attending the wedding were their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kelly of San Francisco.

GREY LADIES

Juniors To Embark On Program

Marin County Junior Grey Ladies will embark tomorrow for the second summer on a program involving assistance with numerous phases of the care of patients at Sonoma State Hospital, and the Marin Convalescent and Rehabilitation Hospital in Tiburon.

The girls will also help with the recreational and training programs planned for retarded children. In order to participate in the Junior Grey Lady program, the girls must have completed 48 hours of training including a Red Cross orientation course (2 hours); hospital orientation (6 hours); games and clinic training (16 hours); first aid (10 hours); and care of the sick and injured (14 hours).

Fridays and Saturdays a group will go to Sonoma, where they will help in the wards with games, arts and crafts, music, messenger service, clerical work and day camp activities. Beverly Dismukes and Sharon Sterne will act as chairmen for these days.

At the convalescent hospital in Tiburon the girls will work in the recreational and occupational therapy departments, and they will also help patients with shopping, letter writing, reading, and games. Chairmen for these groups are Beverly Howard and Linda Pederson.

Sue Matzinger is chairman for those who will work at Lucas Valley. Mrs. Lilian Anderson will receive help from Junior Grey Ladies with her recreation program at the Sun Valley School in San Rafael.

The Misses Dismukes, Sterne, Pederson, Howard and Matzinger constitute a council which will help to devise policies and regulations for the Junior Grey Ladies in Marin County.

There is much excitement among the girls this week over the new official Junior Grey Lady uniform. Through the Marin County Junior Red Cross chapter's efforts in submitting a uniform designed by Mrs. Harold Stetson of Mill Valley, a uniform of a similar design has been adopted and will be standard for the program throughout the United States.

Blue Birds Feted At Swimming Party

The "Little Lady" Blue Birds of San Anselmo wound up their first year as Blue Birds with two field trips and a swimming party at the home of their leader, Mrs. Joseph G. Hensen in San Anselmo.

The girls, members of the second grade at the Wade Thomas school, visited the Marin General Hospital and the Larkspur shop of floral decorator Katherine Eubanks.

Looking forward to their second year as Blue Birds after the summer vacation are Karen Blundell, Lisa Clark, Cathy Colapietro, Taffy Coleman, Carol Hansen, Theresa Metzger, Lynn Phillips, Sandra Re, Patti Thomson, Wendy Thornton, Glenda Totten, Christine Weir and Lynn Whitman.

Ann Fredrickson Bride Of Herbert D. Bruner

White gladioli decorated the altar of the Stewart Memorial Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo on Saturday when Ann Elizabeth Fredrickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fredrickson of Novato, became the bride of Herbert Dwight Bruner of San Rafael.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight K. Bruner of Lincoln, Neb., formerly of San Rafael. The Bruners came West for their son's wedding.

The Rev. Haword B. Schwartz officiated for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of white satin and lace fashioned with rounded neckline and lace bodice. Her waist-length veil fell from a cap of satin and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and Catalya orchids.

Mrs. Frederick Martin of Reno, Nev., was matron of honor, and Mrs. David T. LeFevre of San Jose, the bride's cousin, was bridesmaid.

They wore ballerina gowns of white organza with pale green cummerbunds and had pale green bandeaux with circular veils. Both carried cascade bouquets of green and white carnations.

Fred C. Bruner, the bridegroom's brother of San Jose, was best man, and usher were David LeFevre of San Jose, and Lewis Fredrickson, the bride's brother, of Novato.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fredrickson wore a blue printed chiffon dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Bruner wore a beige linen sheath with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception for 300 guests followed the reception at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. Nola Markey of San Rafael was in charge of the guest book.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and San Jose State College.

The bridegroom was also graduated from San Rafael High and attends Colorado State University, Ft. Collins, Colo. Mrs. Ronald Dangerfield of Sacramento is his sister.

The newlyweds will reside in Placerville during the summer and in September, will go to Ft. Collins where the bridegroom will complete his last year toward a degree in civil engineering. The bride plans to teach in the Colorado schools.

CUTTING THE cake at a garden buffet following their recent marriage in San Francisco's Temple Emanu-El are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney M. Lewin. The bride is the former Barbara Dianne Cassell, daughter of the Bernard Cassells of San Anselmo.

Lewin-Cassell Rites In Temple Emanu-El

Urns of white flowers with candles along the aisle and an arch of white chrysanthemums at the altar formed the setting in Temple Emanu-El in San Francisco for the recent wedding of Barbara Dianne Cassell of San Anselmo and Sidney M. Lewin of San Francisco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard B. Cassell of San Anselmo and the bridegroom, the son of Walter Lewin of San Francisco and the late Mrs. Lewin.

Rabbi Meyer Heller officiated for the 6 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza and lace fashioned Princess style with a draped bustle for back interest. It had three quarter sleeves and a Sabrina neckline. Her elbow length veil was attached to a Swedish coronet of rhinestones and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

Maid of honor for her sister was Rozzie Cassell and bridesmaids were Mrs. James Settles of San Anselmo and Beverly Cassell of San Jose, the bride's cousin.

The honor attendants wore street length dresses of white silk organza fashioned on princess lines with Sabrina necklines and empire waists. They wore bandeaux of nylon leaves with pearl drops and carried garland bouquets of blue baby orchids with white satin streamers.

Bruce Lubarsky of San Francisco was best man and ushers were Bruce Cassell, of San Jose, the bride's cousin, and Donald Morrison of San Francisco.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cassell wore a powder blue lace over satin dress with powder blue accessories and hat and a white orchid corsage.

A garden buffet was served to 200 guests at 7:30 p.m. at the Sleepy Hollow home of the bride's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wertheim.

For a wedding trip to the Hawaiian Islands, the bride wore a white wool two-piece ensemble with patent accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. Jane Cassell of San Francisco, was graduated from George Washington High School in San Francisco and from College of Marin, where she was affiliated with Semantor Gelanes, and from San Francisco State College. She is employed at Pacific Telephone in San Rafael.

The bridegroom was also graduated from George Washington High and College of Marin. He attends San Francisco State, where he is a landscape architecture major.

After July 5, the couple will make their home in San Anselmo.

'SUMMER ON A GALLOP' THEME SET FOR FOCUS SHOW, JULY 7

Vacation time is flying by, and with it goes "Summer on a Gallop." The pace is so fast that milady often finds herself with plenty of places to go but not the right kind of clothes to wear.

No one realizes this more than the enthusiastic San Rafael Pony League Auxiliary whose busy summer includes ardent support of their sons' baseball activities. Next Tuesday they will slow down their gallop to a fashionable walk around the pool at Rickey's as the popular Fashion Focus luncheon honors them.

Barbara McClure of Dixson's on the Boardwalk in Belvedere is trotting out a prize midsummer collection to keep a Marinite as fashionably groomed as a Kentucky thoroughbred and ready for baseball games, patio parties and moonlight nights.

But "Summer on a Gallop" won't be confined to the feminine side. Eight Pony Leaguers will place their bets on Junior Esquire when it comes to clothes young men like for spectator sports or summer hops.

To keep summer hair on the right race track be is campground or cabin cruiser, Raymond's of San Rafael will style coiffures for the eight attractive Pony League Auxiliary models.

The pleasant, informal Fashion Focus luncheons continue around the pool each Tuesday with reservations open to the public and made by calling Rickey's.

Bridge Board Drags Feet On Something Worth While

Last November the manager of the Marin Tourist Bureau drove across the Golden Gate Bridge to attend a meeting of the bridge directors. He had an idea.

Why not, he asked the board, build a tourist information center on the Vista Point at the Marin end of the bridge? It could be made out of redwood, fitted beautifully into the landscaping, and would be helpful both to the bridge and the counties which built the bridge by giving out information as to what the visitor can see and do in them.

We can't take any action until you give us something more definite to go on, said the bridge directors. Work out a package and bring it back to us.

So the manager went back to his office and to work. He worked with the Division of Highways, with the U.S. Army, and with the Redwood Empire Association. Finally the Division of Highways gave approval of the idea last April. The Army said informally it was all right with them, but they wanted to pass on the final plans and to be assured the bridge board approved.

The Redwood Empire Association directors endorsed the idea in principle.

So last May back to the bridge board went the tourist manager, this time via a letter which outlined the whole project.

And what happened?

Nothing! The bridge directors referred the proposal "to committee" and it's been there ever since, two months.

It is difficult to understand why the bridge directors are dragging their feet. Landscaping of the Vista Point apparently is one of their prime goals.

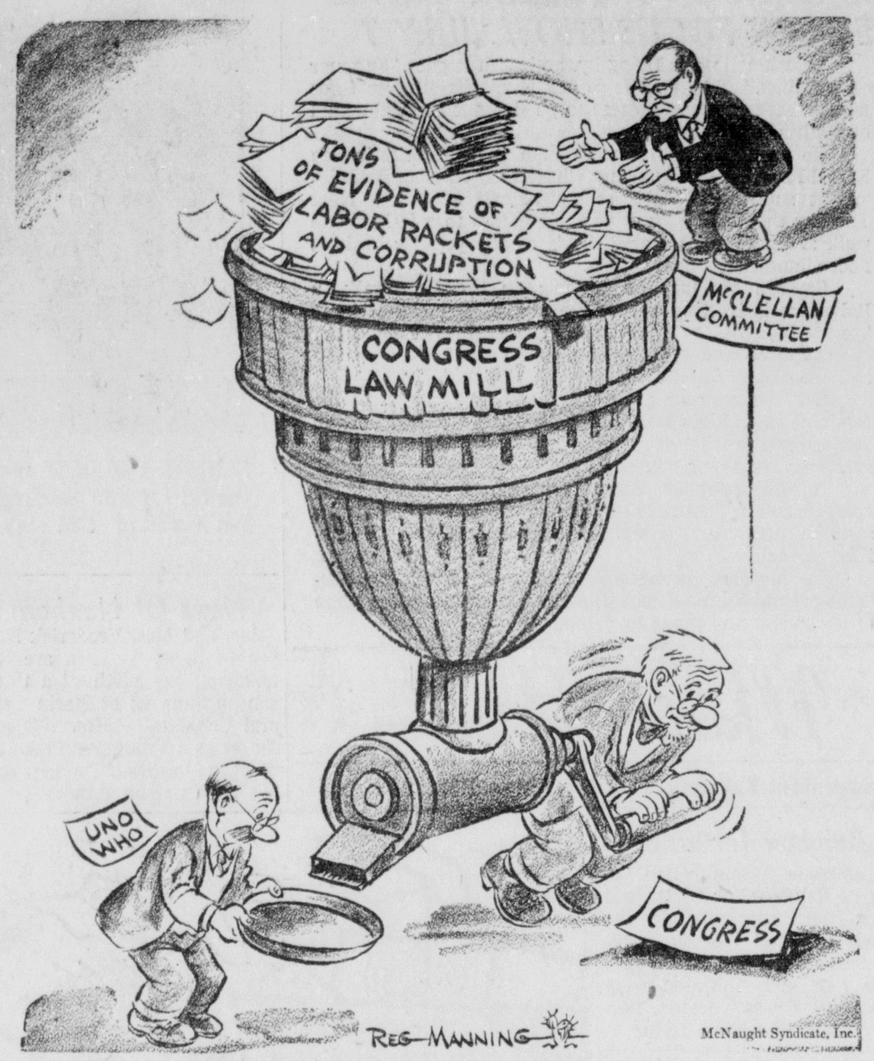

You'll remember that this year the Division of Highways put $40,000 in its budget to construct a parking area on the west side of the bridge near the Vista Point. The improvement would have eliminated the dangerous hazard of cars coming directly onto the highway from the present dirt parking space.

But the bridge directors said, No, not until the Division of Highways landscapes the Vista Point too.

Now here's a solid suggestion for a landscaping project. Not only that, but here is a chance for the bridge to distribute information about itself. And also to get some direct and visible service from the Redwood Empire Association, which, under the plan would staff and operate the tourist bureau.

This tourist information center was not our idea, but we think it is a good one and support it heartily. The bridge directors didn't propose it originally either, and perhaps therein lies the rub. They are notorious for dawdling on someone else's idea regardless of how good. We wish they would break the habit.

FREEDOM BEGINS WITH YOU

Centuries before Christ, the Greeks pioneered a system of self-government which enabled individuals, for the first time in history, to exert a personal influence in the running of their own government.

They demonstrated through long, painstaking experimenting how freedom for a nation can flourish and endure, providing individual citizens fulfill the responsibilities that accompany ther rights.

The Greeks further proved that the roots of freedom reach into the tiniest community and will be strong or weak in the same proportion as the least citizen makes his contributions to good government or withholds them.

All through history, individuals have been slow to comprehend that it is impossible to have self-government without self-participation.

God allows each of us to play a particular role in deepening the roots of freedom. Much depends on what each of us does—or fails to do.

"He that hath looked into the perfect law of liberty, and hath continued therein, not becoming a forgetful hearer but a doer of the work; this man shall be blessed in his deed." (James 1:25)

Keep us reminded, O loving Father, that for each privilege of freedom there is a corresponding duty.

Looking For A Hobby? If You're Over 40, Give Hypochondria A Try

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you looking for a new and enjoyable hobby? Why not take up hypochondria?

"The desire to take medicine is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals," wrote one of the greatest modern physicians, Sir William Osler.

Dr. Osler said another memorable thing: "No man is really happy or safe without a hobby, and it makes precious little difference what the outside interest may be. Anything will do so long as he straddles a hobby and rides it hard."

Hypochondria, the morbid preoccupation with one's own health, is perhaps the most sensible of all hobbies after the age of 40-because it is the most natural. After 40 if you don't worry about yourself, nobody will.

There is little point in taking up hypochondria in youth. During that period of life all one generally suffers from is the more uninteresting complaints — such as sprained ankles, broken limbs, busted hearts.

The golden age of suffering comes later.

It is only after 40 that a new world of disease opens to one. It is then that one first becomes aware he is vulnerable to a wilderness of fascinating ailments ranging from abarognosis — loss of ability to estimate weight — to zoster, an active nerve inflammation.

It is then you find out you can get anything, and anything — bug or virus — can get you. And, unlike the fly-by-night disorders of your childhood and youth, these latterday afflictions often are chronic, such as gout.

You do not have to worry about them disappearing after a simple treatment or two. You can enjoy them for a long time. They will generally last as long as you do.

NOW IS ALSO the best time to become a hypochondriac because there are available hundreds — even thousands — of medicines and wonder drugs that didn't even exist a quarter of a century ago.

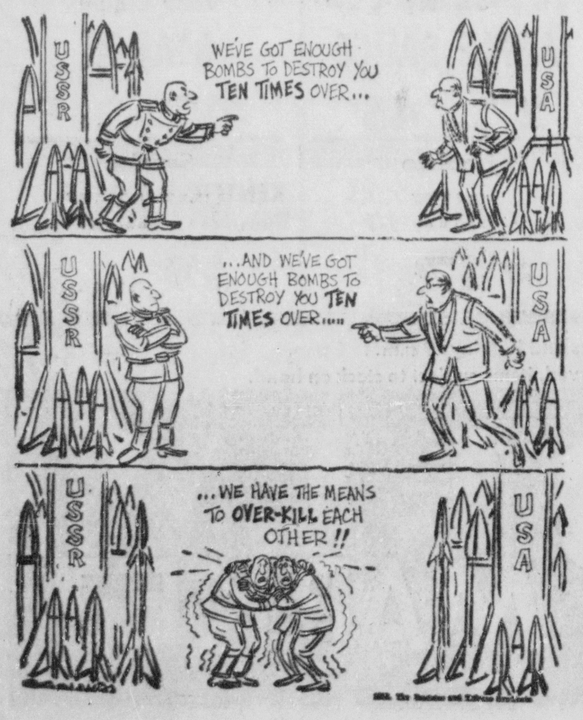

Medicine used to come in two colors — white and dark brown. It used to have only two tastes — sour and bitter.

Today medicines are the middle-aged man's candy. They come in a thousand shapes, sizes, tastes, and rainbow colors.

A FISHERMAN can enjoy his sport only in season. So can the baseball fan. But hypochondria is a real year-round hobby. If the hypochondriac awakes with a sudden dull sense of health, he can always race to the medical dictionary and discover some heartening new symptoms of something fearful.

Hypochondria isn't merely for the rich. It is a hobby that fits any purse. On his days off the hypochondric can always hang around pharmacies getting free smells of drugs he can't yet afford to buy.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Stir Yourself For July 4

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

July 4th — next week — will be the birthdate of our beloved country. It behooves red-blooded and loyal Americans to stir themselves to a fresh and sacrificial dedication.

A certain reader recently objected in our column to the wording of the Pledge of Allegiance — "one nation under God." He objected because he does not believe in a God. Space does not permit us here to set forth the evidence for the existence, the glory, and the authority of a personal, Almighty God. Suffice it to say, first, that God has revealed Himself in nature. Who but a personal, intelligent supreme being could design and construct the human body with its maze of nerves, its billions of cells, its marvelous brain, its intricate eye, and its amazing bloodstream—"Hemo the Magnificent"?

Then too, God has revealed Himself in the most unique book ever written. I refer to the Holy Bible. Lastly, God has revealed Himself in the person of His son, Jesus Christ who walked this earth in sinless perfection, then died on the cross for sinners, and then arose from the grave.

This is the God in whom our founding fathers were not ashamed to trust and to whom they prayed in their times of need. I am amazed at the awful pall of lethargy that has fallen over our nation, whose citizens in calloused indifference go about their Hell-bent, pleasure-mad way — while just outside the Golden Gate lurk the lethal weapons that will destroy us overnight, and while within our shores there sneak the spies who are plotting the overthrow of our Christian culture and American way of life.

Apathetic America will fall, as the Babylonian Empire, intellectual Greece and proud Rome fell — for her sins of sex, materialism and sensual pleasure. America has forgotten God, and God will turn America over to the hands of a ruthless and Godless enemy. Awake — beloved Land of the Free and Home of the Brave! I urge every American to turn to their Bibles and read 2 Chronicles 7:14.

Rape Of Tibet By Chinese Reds Has Shaken India To Foundations

The rape of Tibet by the Chinese Communists is continuing to stir Indian public opinion to its depths. The morally-aroused intellectual leaders of India are not, first, pleading with others to act; they are pleading with their own government.

They say: "The world looks to India for a lead and India must not fail."

They say: "The Prime Minister (Nehru) will never do a shoddy deal and pass off subjugation as autonomy."

THE LATEST evidence of how Red China's aggression is affecting Indian opinion is the convention recently held in Calcutta attended by some 1,700 delegates from all parts of the nation who sought three things:

To mobilize Afro-Asian opinion on "the Tibetan tragedy."

To find ways to get Red China's violation of Tibet's autonomy before the United Nations.

To create a commission of neutral nations "to investigate violation of human rights by the Chinese Communists in Tibet."

This will not free Tibet from the Communist invaders. But it will help to free the other peoples of Asia and Africa from wishful thinking about Chinese Communists.

ONE THING is already clear. India and most of the other Afro-Asian nations are going to be far more wary of Chinese Communism than before. There are three reasons:

1—Red China's attack on Tibet was a bald violation of the "Principles of Peace" which the Asian nations signed at Bandung, which Premier Nehru helped to frame and proclaim as a strong assurance of peace and in which the Chinese Communists pledge "peaceful co-existence" and "non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries." Tibetan autonomy no longer exists or co-exists.

2—The Indian government is particularly chagrined because in 1951 it acquiesced in Red China's forcible demand for special rights in Tibet and gave moral sanction to a coerced treaty which Tibet signed and through which Red China pledged to respect Tibetan autonomy — an autonomy now totally violated.

3—Red Cina's armed invasion and massive suffocation of the liberties of the Tibetan people exhibits Asian imperialism against an Asian nation. This isn't Western imperialism. This isn't Western colonialism. This is Asian imerialism and Asian colonialism on the march. The Asian and African people can now see it starkly and menacingly.

THIS IS WHY Jayaprakash Nayaran, one of the founders of the Indian Praja Socialist party and president of the all-Indian Tibet convention at Calcutta, used these words:

"One of the great tragedies of history is being enacted in full view of the world. Tibet is being gobbled up by the Chinese dragon.

"For years an illusion was in the making. It was said that China was different. It had an ancient civilization. Therefore Chinese Communism was different from Russian. And so on and on. That illusion has been shattered to the great good fortune of the peoples of Asia, who have been warned in time."

IT IS ALL to the good that these Indian leaders are now intent upon creating "a powerful world opinion against Chinese aggression and for Tibetan independence."

Nayaran sees a special duty for India to take the lead because, as he points out, when the delegate of Salvador called on the U.N. to condemn China for her "unproked aggression against Tibet," when it first began in 1950, "the Assembly's Steering Committee, on the strength of the assurances of India's representative, decided to shelve the Tibetan complaint indefinitely."

When he visited Nepal last week, with evident reference to Red China, Premier Nehru significantly denounced countries that "preach peaceful coexistence," but fail to practice it. He urged Nepal not to follow "such a country" but to join with India in common defense and development.

A little collective security may, after all, have its place in Mr. Nehru's scheme of things.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Two college classmates met for the first time in years. "How goes it with you, Pete?" asked one. "Not good at all," mourned Pete. "My wife ran away with the letter carrier, my son is a juvenile delinquent, my bank failed, and all my teeth will have to come out." "Gosh, I'm sorry to hear that," sympathized the classmate. "What business are you in now?"

"Same old line," answered Pete. "Selling good luck charms."

Two angry young members of the downbeat generation went to the desert to see the flight of an experimental jet plane. In the course of same, the button was pressed on a new ejection seat, and the co-pilot floated lazily to earth by parachute.

"Jeepers!" explained one of the downbeats, "dig that crazy toastmaster!"

Long Hours Of Budget Work Weary And Annoy College Board

College of Marin trustees, reduced to four by the surprise resignation of Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, looked exhausted last Tuesday night after approving a record preliminary budget of more than one million dollars.

They had spent all day closeted with president Ward H. Austin in a hectic last-minute work session on the budget, the third such meeting in recent weeks. And several of them had devoted many hours of homework to the job of hammering out what they hope will be a realistic spending program.

As the final day wore on, the harried board members looked at each other and asked, in effect, "Is this really necessary?"

They decided it wasn't.

Trustee George G. Washburn broached the subject during the work session. Turning to Austin, he asked, "Isn't it the proper procedure for the administrator to draw up the budget and present it to the board for review and approval?"

"Yes," replied Austin, "it is."

"Well, I think that is the procedure we should follow," said Washburn. "We are all novitiates at this."

HE WON immediate agreement from Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, who said, "This board should not be doing what we have had to do this year. . . . I certainly wouldn't vote for a repetition of this under any circumstances!"

"Mr. Austin should draw up a budget, and then we can look at his figures and try to justify them," said Washburn. "His advice has been sought, but he has not prepared the budget. He is much more familiar with these figures than we are."

The night, at the budget meeting in Harlan Hall, the trustees made it unequivocal. It was announced that in future years the college president, who doubles as superintendent of Marin Junior College District, will do the budget grubbing and the board will fulfill its regular policy-making function.

It was never explained, incidentally, why this procedure — standard in Marin's public school districts — hasn't been followed by the college district.

WE WERE ASSIGNED last week to do a story on the change of managers at the J. C. Penney store in Corte Madera Shopping Center, effective tomorrow. In talking to outgoing manager Larry Gaisford, who is being transferred to Penney's in San Leandro, we learned he has two children, Larry and Pat.

"Pat for Patrick, or Pat for Patricia?" we asked.

It was Patricia. But Gaisford said his daughter much preferred the nickname. He then explained there are three "name stages" in the life of a girl born Patricia.

"From age 1 to 15, she's Patty," he said. Then from 15 to 20, she's Pat. But at 20, when she starts looking around for a husband, she suddenly becomes Patricia."

OF FEDERAL SPENDING

N. Y. Says We Get More Than Fair Share

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — What is a "fair share" of the federal spending pie?

No one in the nation's capital is quite sure. But it is something every senator and representative is convinced his state or district is entitled to.

And right now it's something New York and West Virginia say they aren't getting.

The entire New York delegation in Congress is supporting a bill that would direct the Defense Department to consider, among other things, "the strategic and economic desirability of allocating purchases to different geographic areas of the nation and to eligible suppliers from whom relatively smaller proportions of procurement have been purchased."

WHAT IRKS the New Yorkers is that California has displaced their state as the leading recipient of military prime contracts. The Empire State is hurting, according to Sen. Kenneth Keating (R, N.Y.), and wants a "fair and even break."

West Virginia, for its part, is being "shortchanged" in the matter of military installations and payrolls, says Rep. Ken Hechler (D, W.Va.). He is "firmly against . . . logrolling" on the defense program, but intends to "roar until West Virginia gets the fair treatment she deserves."

THE NEW YORK and West Virginia complaints point up the built-in conflict, in a federal system of government, between local and national interests. No single formula for resolving this perennial issue appears possible.

Congress comes closest to answering the "fair share" question in the rivers and harbors, or so-called "pork barrel" bills. Even here, however, it is not possible to please everyone.

As the House June 5 took his colleague's that their "appropriation, Rep. Edward P. Boland (D, Mass.) reminded his colleague's that their appetite for the goodies that we offer is insatiable and limitless." And according to Appropriations Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon (D, Mo.) the bill was "driven through with all the wolves hanging on our flanks."

FEDERAL PROGRAMS involving "grants-in-aid" to the states — now surpassing $5 billion a year — also pose the problem of determining what is a "fair share." Here, however, there is broad acceptance of the basic concept that the wealthier states should help the poorer states in pursuing certain national objectives. But there is always a dispute over the particular formula to be used in allocating grants to the states.

A "fair share" of the $40 billion or so spent each year by the Defense Department is another matter. Neither Congress nor the executive branch has ever attempted to set up a formula for geographical allocation of what amounts to one-half of the federal budget.

This is not to say that the armed services are insensitive to the interests of Members of Congress. Wherever possible, they seek to oblige by spreading the benefits of military spending. Weather conditions, however, argue for placing such installations as Army camps and Air Force bases in the South. Similarly, major procurement contracts tend to go to states with industries equipped to handle the special needs of the armed services.

CALIFORNIA'S SENS. Thomas H. Kuchel (R) and Clair Engle (D) say the bill sponsored by the New Yorkers represents an attempt to "raid" the industry, and that its enactment would empower the large Empire State delegation to "put the hot foot" on the Defense Department to get more contracts.

The New Yorkers don't expect their bill to pass. Like West Virginia's Rep. Hechler, however, they hope the noise they are raising will induce the Defense Department to heed their pleas. And judging by past experience, something will be done to help them. But it will still be anybody's guess as to what a "fair share" of the Federal pie really is.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counsellor

If You Were Judge In This Case, Would You Blame Boy's Mother?

Who is to blame when a boy goes bad? His mother? I've been listening to a judge scold the mother of a young criminal. He said he wished he could lock her up instead of her boy. Here are the facts.

The boy's mother is a war widow. She has chosen not to remarry. The government pension she has received is not big enough to support the two of them. So she has worked outside her home through all the years. Most war widows have had to do that, you know.

She was not able to provide good care for her son while she worked. Much of the time he ran wild. She was starved for affection. Her boy was all she had. She concentrated her love on him, sometimes unwisely. She could not bring herself to punish him when he needed it. He grew up without proper guidance.

Such boys always find bad companions. Some time ago he began running with a gang of delinquents. He learned to steal. He began to drink, and use pep pills. He took part in gang fights. He was caught in a robbery. That led to the trial, and to the judge's condemnation of his mother.

What do you think? Was she to blame? Should she have been scolded? She was not a good mother. On the other hand, she couldn't help herself. She did her level best. Can we ask more from anyone?

Fortunately, this occurred in a state which cares about delinquents. The boy will go first to a child guidance clinic. His needs will be studied scientifically. Then he'll go to a special training school. He may turn out all right. But should his mother be scolded? Let me know what you decide.

(Q) "Our daughter is 11. She matured early. A boy of 15 likes her. He is a fine boy, and she is a good little girl. They want to go steady. My husband thinks we should say no, but I disagree. What do you suggest?" —Mrs. N.W.

(A) I suggest you say no. She's too young. If you say yes you'll be asking for trouble.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, June 30, the 181st day of the year, with 184 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this date in history:

In 1834, Congress created the Department of Indian Affairs.

In 1906, President Theodore Roosevelt signed the Pure Food and Drug Act.

In 1921, ex-President William Howard Taft was named chief justice of the United States, becoming the first and the only man ever to serve in both posts.

In 1934, German dictator Adolf Hitler began his great "blood bath," purging hundreds of top military and political leaders.

In 1936, Margaret Mitchell's novel of the Civil War, "Gone With the Wind," was published.

In 1950, President Harry S. Truman announced that he had ordered U. S. troops stationed in Japan and Korea to assist in the war against the North Koreans.

Thought for today: President Theodore Roosevelt said "the object of government is the welfare of the people."

GENERAL BIDS TROOPS FAREWELL

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor shook with paratroop veterans he led in World War II at a review of the 101st Airborne (Screaming Eagles) Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky., yesterday. The review was staged as a farewell to Taylor, who retired as Army chief of staff today. At left is Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, the division's present commander. The division also lost its mascot, a young golden eagle which died shortly after playing its part in the review. (AP Wirephoto)

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Siamese Twins Born

NYSSA, Ore. (AP) — One-day-old Siamese twins were dispatched to Portland, Ore., this morning, where doctors hope to learn whether they can be surgically separated.

The pretty, apparently healthy twin girls—joined at the abdomen—were born to an Idaho farm couple yesterday in Malheur Memorial Hospital.

Charles Smith, hospital manager, quoted the doctor who delivered the twins as saying they were "joined extensively."

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Stubblefield of rural Parma, Idaho. The father is 25 and the mother 24. They have three other children.

Train Toll Hits 19

MELDRIM, Ga. (AP)—A full-scale investigation is under way to determine what caused Sunday's disastrous train wreck.

The death toll from butane flames reached 19 last night. Three persons are still in serious condition.

Sifting through the ashes and gathering eyewitness reports are investigators from the Interstate Commerce Commission, Georgia Public Service Commission and Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co.

Teller Lectures Bandit

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "I'm not kidding," said the nervous bandit yesterday. "Don't be foolish. You'll get yourself into trouble," said the woman bank teller, whose name was not released. With that, the young man took back his check made out for $1,000 and his note saying "give me the money or someone will get hurt," and left the downtown office of the First Trust and Deposit Co.

Athens To Get Nikes

ATHENS (AP)—The Greek government is going to ring Athens with Nike missile bases to protect the capital from air attack, an Air Ministry spokesman said today. Greek officers and men are already in the United States training to use the surface-to-air anti-aircraft missiles, he said. Construction of the bases on mountains overlooking Athens is due to be completed by the end of 1960.

Reno Strike Still On

RENO (AP)—Pressmen agreed to honor picket lines as an American Newspaper Guild Strike against Reno's two daily newspapers moved into its second day.

The pressmen did not report for work for the morning Nevada State Journal yesterday afternoon although they had worked to get out the evening Reno Gazette.

Typesetters observed the guild picket lines from the beginning of the strike yesterday morning.

Journal Editor Paul Leonard said "We expect to publish" but the Journal had not appeared by its usual midnight deadline.

The guild made up of about 30 of the Gazette editorial department employees and combined advertising department employees of both newspapers, announced it was striking over wages and job security. Editorial employees of the Journal are not guildsmen.

Lama's Claim Denied

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government made clear today it does not support the fugitive Dalai Lama's claim that he is running the real government of Tibet from his self-imposed exile in India.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said the Indian government does "not recognize any separate government of Tibet and there is therefore no question of a Tibetan government under the Dalai Lama functioning in India."

India recognizes the Chinese Communists as the legal government of China and also recognizes China's claim to sovereignty over Tibet.

Ike Honors Strauss

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower gave a small White House farewell dinner party last night for Commerce Secretary Lewis L. Strauss and Dr. James Killian Jr., retiring White House science adviser.

No other guests were announced for the dinner save Mrs. Strauss and Mrs. Killian.

Strauss, who earlier yesterday flew to New York with Eisenhower to visit the Russian exhibit, has yet to officially leave his commerce post, despite the close and bitter Senate vote against his nomination. Under law he can serve until the end of this session of Congress.

Killian is leaving the White House to return to his post as chairman of the corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Russ Free Fishermen

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—Thirty-seven Japanese fishermen came home today after a year in Soviet captivity on charges of trespassing.

Soviet Ambassador Nicolai T. Fedorenko warned that Japanese fishing boats will not be safe in northern waters until Japan signs a World War II peace treaty.

Signing a peace treaty was delayed because of a dispute over the Soviet-held Kurile islands, which Japan claims.

Murderer 'Freed'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A judge yesterday set free a man he said "literally got away with murder."

William Dunn, 47, had faked insanity for 27 years to avoid prosecution for first degree murder.

When he was finally found out, by psychiatrists at Manhattan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, many of the witnesses against him had become unavailable. He was permitted to plead guilty to first degree manslaughter.

Kings County Judge Samuel Leibowitz sentenced him yesterday to the maximum 20 years on that charge but suspended sentence, because "in my opinion, 27 years in Matteawan is worse than 1,000 years in Sing Sing."

Japanese Paid More

TOKYO (AP) — The average Japanese salaried man was paid $51.41 a month before taxes in 1958-31 per cent more than five years before. The government Tax Bureau said after taxes monthly paychecks averaged $49.45.

Nurse's Slip Kills Baby

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—A nurse's error in preparing a formula was blamed today for causing the death of one newborn infant and leaving two others in critical condition.

Supt. George Rollo of the Putnam County Hospital at Greencastle, Ind., said the nurse "apparently got hold of the wrong bottle."

He said she put "a substance not a poison per se" into the feeding formula last Wednesday in place of distilled water. Another source identified the substance as boric acid solution.

The three infants who received the formula became ill.

Little James Christian Gambold died Sunday night.

Satellite Too Slow

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — Discoverer IV satellite failed to go in orbit last Thursday because it was going too slow, the Air Force has announced.

A speed of about 18,000 miles an hour is necessary for a satellite to enter orbit. The brief statement by the ballistic missile division yesterday failed to mention Discoverer IV's maximum velocity before it plunged back to earth in a fiery death minutes after being launched at Vandenberg Air Force Base north of here.

State Taxes Rise By $116 Million, Thanks To Brown

By JERRY REYNOLDS
(Second in a series)

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians didn't know it at the start of this year, but as of now they will be paying $116,375,000 more in state taxes in this calendar year.

Besides this, banks and corporations will add another $60,650,000 and insurance companies $55,000,000 to make it $232,025,000 the state will collect in new revenue for the 1959 calendar year.

The reason is the ambitious tax increase program Gov. Edmund G. Brown fought through the Legislature. This calls for an overall increase of 11.5 per cent in state revenue from taxes.

Brown asked for $256,000,000 a year in new taxes to get the state budget out of the red. He He got a $222,725,000 boost per fiscal year, losing only a 2 per cent severance tax on oil and natural gas, part of his beer and horse racing boosts and the proposed tax on cigars and tobacco.

TOBACCO TAX

Here is what he got and what it will cost the people:

1. Cigarette and cigarillo smokers will start paying three cents per package more tomorrow.

One major Central Valley wholesaler said the price may have to go up four cents a package in retail stores to cover costs of collecting the tax, but this probably would not happen until September when they first start collecting the tax by the stamp method in wholesale houses.

Industry sources also say cigarettes sold in vending machines are sure to go up five cents a package for most makes on July 1.

The tax will cost pack-a-day smokers from $11 to $20 a year. It will bring in $30,375,000 in the last six months of this year and $61,750,000 in a full year to the state.

RACING TAX

2. The higher horse racing tax is already in effect. It will cost bettors $6,100,000 this year from their horse race winnings. In a full year it will cost $10,425,000, $600,000 of which will be paid by Santa Anita and Hollywood Park race tracks in creased license fees.

When this tax goes into effect, payoffs on winning bets will be made at the next lower 10 cent level instead of five cent level as before. For instance, if the parimutuel payoff is $3.39, the bettor will collect $3.30 instead of $3.35, putting nine cents in the breakage fund. Part of this fund goes to the state.

Also, the state will take 14 instead of 13 per cent from the parimutuel pool before winning tickets are paid off.

INCOME TAX

3. Californians will pay $73,900,000 in higher income taxes this year. The tax went into effect as of last Jan. 1. These will be due and payable next April 15.

The boost mainly affects the middle and upper income groups, with persons earning more than $25,000 a year paying about two-thirds of the tax.

The average family of four earning less than $10,500 a year will pay a little less and single persons and couples in that bracket will pay more.

BEER TAX

4. The effect of the increased beer tax is not yet clear. When Brown asked for a beer tax boost of from two to seven cents per gallon, beer lobbyist Dainiel Creedon said breweries would have to boost their prices five cents a 12-ounce can.

But as finally passed, the beer boost was from two to four cents a gallon. One brewery spokesman said the new tax would be reviewed along with other cost increases since 1957 and an announcement probably would be ready in 30 days.

The beer tax will bring in $2,000,000 to the state in the remainder of this year, $4,000,000 in a full year.

INHERITANCE TAX

5. A boost in inheritance taxes will bring in an extra $8,000,000 to the state. This will come from legacies to uncles, aunts, cousins, more remote relatives and non-relatives.

Of the other two taxes n the Brown program, the Legislature voted to speed up collection of insurance company gross premium taxes from November to June. This will bring in $55,000,000 this fiscal year and $5,000,000 in following years.

The bank and corporation tax was raised from 4 to 5½ per cent on net income, making payable for this calendar year an extra $60,650,000.

One other tax bill passed in the last day of the Legislature may or may not affect the amount of taxes paid. This new law makes it necessary for county assessors to open their books to property owners so they can check how their property is being assessed compared with their neighbors and the county average.

6,100 Attend Meeting Of Witnesses

Jehovah's Witnesses and friends from Marin have returned home from a four-day Bible education district assembly at Stockton.

More than 6,100 attended the meeting, one of 28 being sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society this summer.

The local delegation was headed by Donald E. Hull, presiding minister of the San Rafael congregation. He said the program emphasized the theme, "Awake Ministers."

A total of 158 new ministers were baptized.

Principal speaker at the assemply was William D. Couch, special representative from the Watchtower Society's world headquarters, in New York.

The San Rafael congregation will renew its regular schedule of meetings this week. Information and instruction received at the assembly will be used in the ministerial training classes at Kingdom Hall, 10 Woodland avenue.

Book On Nixon Stirs Warren: Author Is 'Liar'

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren took "angry exception" to a biography of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and called the biographer a "damned liar," the Des Moines Register and the Minneapolis Tribune said today in a copyrighted story.

Register-Tribune Washington correspondent Clark Mollenhoff said Warren argued "heatedly" with author Earl Mazo over Mazo's book, "Richard Nixon: A Political and Personal Portrait."

Mollenhoff said the two met at a cocktail party Sunday night and Warren told Mazo he believed the book was written to "promote the presidential candidacy of Nixon."

Mollenhoff said Mazo replied that he "resented this slur on his integrity as a reporter and 'the direct charge that I have prostituted myself.'"

Mollenhoff said the Chief Justice especially objected to a passage indicating Warren opposed Nixon's election to the U. S. Senate in 1950 and implying Nixon won despite opposition by Warren, at that time the major political figure in California.

"I don't care what you write about Nixon as long as you don't try to build him over my body," Warren was quoted by Mollenhoff, who was present at the party in the apartment of Bernard Nover, Washington correspondent for the Denver Post.

"You are a damned liar," Mollenhoff quoted Warren as saying. "It is a dishonest account to promote Nixon."

The contractor to whom the contract is awarded and any subcontractor under him shall pay not less than the said specified wage rates to all workmen employed by them in the execution of the Contract.

Each Bid shall be submitted on the form prepared by the City Engineer and which may be obtained at his office. All bids are to be compared on the basis of the City Engineer's estimate of quantities of work to be done.

Each Bid must be accompanied by one of the following forms of Bidder's Security; cash, cashier's check or a certified check, made payable to the City of Larkspur, or a Bid Bond executed by an insurer authorized to issue surety bonds in the State of California. The Bidder's Security shall be in an amount equal to at least ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the Bid. The said Bidder's Security shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the Contract if awarded to him and will furnish a Faithful Performance bond and a Labor and Material bond as required by said Contract documents and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder fails to so enter into and execute the Contract and furnish said bonds all as required by said Contract Documents.

Each Bid must be contained in a sealed envelope addressed to the City Council of the City of Larkspur and filed at the office of the City Clerk of the City of Larkspur in the City Hall, Larkspur, California, on or before the 15th day of July, 1959, at 8 o'clock P.M.

At or about 8 o'clock P.M. on the 15th day of July, 1959, at the Chambers of the City Council of the City of Larkspur in the City Hall at Larkspur, California, the Bids will be publicly opened and declared.

All Bids may be held by the City Council of the City of Larkspur for 30 days for consideration, and no Bid shall be withdrawn for a period of 30 days subsequent to the opening of Bids, without the consent of the City of Larkspur.

The City of Larkspur reserves the right to reject any and all Bids presented and to waive any informality in any Bid and if any two or more Bids received are the same and are the lowest bids received, the City of Larkspur may accept which ever one it chooses.

Each bidder in making his bid to perform the work hereinabove referred to shall set forth the following:

(a) The name and the location of the place of business of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the general contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement in an amount in excess of one-half (½) of one per cent of the general contractor's total Bid.

(b) The portion of the work which will be done by each such subcontractor.

Court Rules For Radio, TV In Libel Suits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that radio and TV stations may not be sued for libel for remarks made by political candidates in broadcast speeches.

The court held that immunity was provided when Congress barred censorship of political broadcasts, and required stations to give equal time on the same terms to rival candidates for the same office.

Justice Black delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Frankfurter dissented in an opinion in which justices Harlan Whittaker and Stewart joined.

SUPERSEDING LAW

The Supreme Court majority held that the part of the Federal Communications Act known as Section 315, superseded state laws dealing with libel.

Black's opinion said that, "whatever adverse inference may be drawn from the failure of Congress to legislate an express immunity (from libel) is offset by its refusal to permit stations to avoid liability by censoring broadcasts."

NORTH DAKOTA CASE

The Supreme Court in essence was endorsing the view of the North Dakota Supreme Court in a case that came to it from that state.

The state court approved dismissal of a $100,000 libel suit filed by the North Dakota Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America. The suit was against station WDAY of Fargo, and A. C. Townley, of Bismarck, N.D., an independent candidate for U.S. senator in 1956.

Marin Navy Officer Serves On USS Ranger

Navy Lt. (j.g.) Glenn H. Mayer is serving as administrative officer of All-Weather Attack Squadron 35 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger, operating with the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Far East.

Meyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Meyer of Kentfield, and husband of the former Miss Dana S. McBride of Sausalito.

Before entering the Navy in February, 1955, Lt. (j.g.) Meyer was graduated from the University of California.

Grudge Judo Match Set —Perhaps

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A 5-foot-9 lawyer says he and a 6-foot-4 actor are scheduled to fight a $1,000 judo grudge match tomorrow.

The actor, Wayde Preston, said: "I don't know anything about it."

Preston and attorney Arthur Crowley clashed Sunday night at a party in the home of Lance Reventlow, son of dime-store heiress Barbara Hutton.

"We decided to settle it later," Crowley said. "The time was set for 6:30 p.m. tomorrow."

Crowley is 34 and weighs 170 pounds. Preston, 28, weighs 185.

Reventlow's frequent date, Jill St. John, said "Preston wasn't invited. He had a chip on his shoulder all evening. He finally was asked to leave but did not go."

2 Industrial Permits Issued Here In May

Two permits for industrial construction valued at $28,500 were issued in Marin County during May of 1959, according to figures compiled by the San Francisco Bay Area Council, Inc.

In May of 1958 but one permit for work valued at $800 was issued in this county.

For the Bay Area as a whole a total of 56 industrial permits were issued last month for construction valued at $3,628,255—almost double the May, 1958, figures of 47 permits and $1,843,313 valuation.

The May, 1959, total includes three Contra Costa County permits with a $1,505,450 valuation.

Satellite Sale Days In Corte Madera

Satellite Sale Days, a spectacular three-day bargain event, will be launched tomorrow at the Corte Madera Shopping Center on Highway 101.

Designed especially for customers with a keen eye for values, the special sale will be held in conjunction with a pre-Fourth of July armament ex? exhibit.

Battery C of the Army's 2nd Missile Battalion will display a Nike-Ajax missile on the shopping center's huge east parking lot.

The missile and its operation will be explained by men of the Santa Venetia Nike battery.

Plans were being completed today for a display of other defense weapons during the merchandising event, which will run through Friday night. The California National Guard unit in Fairfax has been invited to participate.

All stores at Corte Madera Center will offer drastic reductions in the prices of many items of regular merchandise during satellite days.

Ray Zierolf, president of the shopping center's merchants council, said Marinites in growing numbers are discovering the convenience of doing business at the county's one-stop regional shopping community."

"Satellite Days will give many more people an excellent opportunty to see what we have to offer in goods and services at Corte Madera Center," Zierolf added.

For convenience of late shoppers, all stores will be open until 9 o'clock tomorrow night and Friday night.

Here is a list of the 29 stores and services at the multi-million-dollar Corte Madera Center:

Harmony Music Center, Luana's, Kerns and Walker Cleaners, the Swiss Watchmaker (Eric Mathias), Littleman Market, Louis George Men's Apparel, W. T. Grant Co., Thrifty Drug Store, F. W. Woolworth Co., Kramar's Shoes.

J. C. Penney Co., Anita Shop, Jay Vee Store, Kirby Shoe Store, Martin and Harris Appliances, Lady Baltimore Bakery, Gallenkamp's Shoes, Toy World.

Zim's Restaurant, Junior Junction Infants and Children's Wear, First National Bank, Household Finance Corp., Peerless Laundry, Marin Barbershop, Edgewater Inn, Bob's of Marin Restaurant, Jerry's Chevron Service, Friend's Union Service and Dr. Shuso Kumata, optometrist.

Dog Owners Needn't Vacation Without Pet

CHICAGO (UPI)—A dog-owner doesn't have to leave his four-legged friend at home during lengthy auto trips, provided the pooch is given the proper training ahead of time.

The Chicago Motor Club said most dogs, particularly the smaller breeds such as terriers and spaniels, enjoy motoring.

Frequent short aunts around the neighborhood before the proposed trip begins will condition any dog to motion, the club said, and will make sure he doesn't get car-sick.

The club also suggested that a motoring dog-owner protect his pup from eye and other inflammations by forbidding Fido to poke his head out of open car windows.

It also said dogs should be encouraged to lie quietly while riding so they won't interfere with the car's operation and that they should be given frequent chances for getting out of the car—but shouldn't be allowed to run around at stopping points.

And, says the motor club, don't feed the traveling dog during the day; save his meals for the evening.

SURVEY IN UNISON

Walking flamingos uncoil their necks as they wade into pool at Whipsnade Zoo near Dunstable, England. The graceful birds are a great attraction.

Only Good Kangaroo Is A Dead One, Say Australian Farmers

SYDNEY (UPI) — "A good kangaroo is a dead kangaroo" in the opinion of the Australian farmer, who right now is battling another invasion by the hoppers in the "outback" of New South Wales and Queensland.

These marsupials rank with the rabbit and the dingo (Australian wild dog) as the greatest animal pests with which the Australian land-owner must contend.

Far from being a harmless tourist attraction, the kangaroo, in the terms of a typical wheat farmer, is a "flamin' nuisance" — and in Australian terms, that's serious.

The animal's downfall is its hunger, and its aptitude for satisfying it by nightly forages into near-ripe wheat crops.

For years farmers have spent thousands of pounds building "kangaroo proof" fences, which are about as effective against the high-hopping beasts as rabbit-proof wire is against the rabbit.

Bitter experience has long since taught farmers that kangaroos can jump practically any fence just as easily as rabbits can burrow under it.

Hence, the necessity of nightly vigils on thousands of farms by boys and men, lying full length in the middle of their wheat crops.

Their weapons are loaded wartime .303's. Nothing else will stop a kangaroo, and even then, the bullet has to hit the head or heart.

Maybe they'll wait for three hours. Then, a shot or two and the 'roos bolt. The result of the night's work is one, perhaps two, dead animals.

The farmers figure it's worthwhile. One night's relaxation of such guard duty could mean acres of trampled, devoured crops.

Kangaroos are not getting scarcer. No longer do tribes of Australian aborigines comb the bushlands after their favorite meat. The primitive hunters, a dying race, stick to their reservations, working for pay and food in more civilized communities.

Further, scientists have been unable to find a sure-fire killer for the 'roos, as they did with rabbits. The virus myxomatosis decimated Australia's rabbit population, but the tougher kangaroo has defied everything scientists of the Commonwealth Scientific Research Organization have tried.

The average city dweller never thinks of the kangaroo as a pest, but rather as a treat to be seen occasionally on a Sunday drive. But the plagues of the last two years have brought them right back to city doorsteps.

A red kangaroo, biggest of the species, has been seen in recent months, hopping happily around garden bushland in a suburb less than 20 miles from the heart of Sydney.

Normally peaceful, the kangaroo, if trapped, can attack with its hind leg claws and iron-bar tail, inflicting terrible wounds.

The impression that kangaroos are tame, harmless creatures, has perhaps been heightened by children's stories which describe the animals as having human-like qualities. No overseas tourist leaves Australia without a toy kangaroo and koala bear clutched in hand.

But this summer, there are plenty of Australian farmers, slapping at mosquitoes, lying full length in their wheat crops as the night mist settles, who curse the animal depicted on the back of the Australian penny.

ROME . . . CITY OF CONTRASTS . . . ON I-J TOUR

Remnants of the splendor which once was Rome indicates the outlines of the famous Forum, where political debates took place. Still standing throughout the city are ancient baths and arches, as well as many masterpieces of the Italian Renaissance. In a single view one may see signposts of 20 centuries.

All of the city's famed landmarks will be viewed by members of the Independent-Journal-sponsored Marin European tour leaving Sept. 29 by TWA polar flight for 20 unforgettable days in Europe. Tour registrations may be made with coupons appearing regularly in the I-J. Tour cost will be a budget-pleasing $1,049.

Holland Now Becoming Big Oil Producer

THE HAGUE, Holland (UPI)— Oil derricks are as much a part of Holland's landscape as dikes.

The world's most densely populated nation is now producing even more oil than the United States—at least on a land ratio basis.

The U.S., with an area about 260 times larger than Holland, produced 383.8 million tons of oil last year, or 256 times as much as the 1.5 million tons of oil produced in Holland in the same year.

The more than 350 producing wells in Holland are run by Nederlandse Aardolie Maatschappij, or NAM., a joint venture on a 50-50 basis involving the Batafse Petroleum Maatschappij, B.P.M., and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

YOUNG INDUSTRY

Holland's young oil industry —its first productive drilling operation came 10 years ago— provides for 25 per cent of the national consumption and production is steadily increasing.

Before World War II, oil derricks were to the Dutchman what windmills were to the American — structures known only from films and pictures. Today, these derricks are towering over cowsin the meadows, over the famed glasshouses in the "Westland," and in the dunes along the North Sea.

They have even moved into the cities and have become a familiar sight in the northern residential suburbs of The Hague. After a while, the derricks disappear to make way for nearly-inconspicuous installations which pump oil through small underground pipes to large collection centers.

WHERE IT'S FOUND

Oil thus far has been found in exploitable quantities in Holland in the general area of Schoonebeek, in the central northeastern part of the country, and in the nation's most densely populated province, Zuid-Holland, between The Hague and Rotterdam.

In addition to oil, the NAM company exploits a total of 28 gas wells.

The ownership of land in Holland does not include the minerals in the soil, which belongs to the state. The NAM, therefore, must apply for oil concessions in any area where it wants to drill. In return for this, the company pays the government a percentage of its profits.

Officals of the NAM are concerned about the carelessness of some people around the wells. "Not everybody here is yet petroleum-minded," said one official. "There have been cases where people sat on top of the cages around producing pumps while smoking cigarettes."

The company employs a small army of guards who keep watch over every gas and oil well. The situation in Holland is especially dangerous because oil and gas are mostly found under very heavy pressures. "We have had several threatening blowouts, but fortunately, none has actually occurred thus far," the spokesman said.

Horses From Tyrolean Alps Roaming Meadows In Illinois

SPRING GROVE, Ill. (UPI) — A herd of sturdy little mountain draft horses frolics today on rolling meadows far from the rocky slopes of their native Tyrolean Alps. They are immigrants of note in the equine world — the first of their breed to be imported to America.

The horses — nine mares, three colts and a stallion — are chestnut - colored, fiery - eyed Haflingers, a breed developed 100 years ago by mating husky little mountain mares with noble Arabian stallions.

The 13 "immigrants" were purchased in Austria and brought to northern Illinois by Tempel Smith, a Chicago electronics manufacturer, and his wife Esther.

The Smiths aren't trying to buck a trend that has seen the nation's number of farm houses slide from an all-time high of 16,528,000 in the boom days of horse-drawn equipment to fewer that 3,500,000 in this era of the tractor.

"Horses are just a hobby today," Mrs. Smith said as she led the way to a grassy, wooded lot where the mares grazed at the Circle Z Farm.

She said her husband intends to breed and sell Haflingers, use them as mounts for children, hitch them to colorful Austrian-made carts and wagons for farm chores, and perhaps display them at the International Livestock Exposition and other horse shows.

Introduction of the breed to the United States set up an interesting experiment in how a horse's environment affects its conformation and temperament.

"We wonder whether the Haflinger will change type — perhaps grow taller," Mrs. Smith said.

The Smiths' horse master, Leo Lightner, said "only time will tell." He said the Haflinger built originally from relatively short stock, has been dwarfed and toughened by life in the high Tyrol.

As a foal and young horse, the Haflinger ranges without cover over poor mountain pastures, at 5,000 to 7,000 feet altitude. The grown horse is used throughout the year as a work animal on mountain farms and logging camps and as a pack horse in the high country.

The Haflingers at the Smith camps stand about 14 hands high (a hand is four inches). They're longer than they are tall, and almost as compact as an Aberdeen Angus steer. With their rare double manes, flowing white tails and feathery fetlocks, they look something like a half-pint Clydesdale.

Their Arabian ancestry has given them a lively temperament that makes them good saddle and harness horses. Yet, Mrs. Smith said, most of them are so gentle that children can handle them.

To show how easily they handle, Lightner hitched up the prize stallion, Starwonder, which was bought from the Austrian state stud farm at Innsbruck, and drove him around the farm lot. It was only the second time Starwonder had been in harness, the horse master said, but he handled almost like a veteran.

Then grooms hooked up 3-year-old mare Jeremia, who never before had felt the weight of a harness on her back and an older mare, Edelgut.

Jeremia sidled into the outside tug a few times, cocked an eye across to see how Edelgut was meeting the situation, then took the bit and padded along obediently.

Along with his other duties, Lightner is teaching inexperienced grooms the rudiments of horsemanship and such German terms as "schritt" (or "walk") and "sehr brave" ("very good").

"It's easier to Germanize the grooms than to Americanize the Haflingers," he said.

Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, established in 1872, is the nation's largest and oldest national park.

Science Fiction Author Shuns Autos, Planes

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Author Ray Bradbury, whose science fiction stories deal with fantastic machines of the future, won't ride in an airplane or drive a car.

"Maybe it's conceit," said the stocky, crew-cut, 38-year-old writer, "but I just don't want to die before I finish some more books.

"I'm always nervous when I'm writing a book. I'm afraid I won't live to finish it."

Bradbury noted that "when you fall in a plane you're usually dead," and as for cars, "they seem to bring out the worst side of the people who drive them."

"I take cabs a lot," he went on, "and I notice that the drivers become more nervous and less human behind the wheel. They almost become part of the machine. It seems to me our job is to become more human and relate ourselves more kindly to other people."

Bradbury insisted he certainly isn't against machines in general.

"The important thing," he said, "is for the people who make them to try to make them more human—and that's possible. For instance, the car-makers in Detroit should be experimenting with colors and shapes of autos to see if they have effects on the driver's actions.

"Personally, I think a lot of frustrated men are trying to prove they have power when they drive cars. We always hear jokes about women drivers, but I think the men are the real road murderers. We have to prove to the male drivers that they don't have to prove their masculinity."

Despite his attitude toward cars, Bradbury admitted that even he may have to learn to drive one because of his family's demands.

"I just got my wife Marguerite a car," he said. "She decided at the age of 36 that she wants to drive because she goes to medical school.

Rustling Survives On Plains

SANTA FE (UPI) — Cattle rustling survives in New Mexico today but not on the grand scale that stripped the plains of their bellowing herds in yesteryear.

The 20th century has added its touches — pickup trucks to speed the critters away from the corrals to cheap eateries that want the low-priced uninspected beef.

And they don't hang rustlers anymore. In fact it's almost impossible even to catch them when they use these hit-and-run tactics.

R. C. Bishop, state cattle brand inspector for several counties, says the last organized ring was rounded up a few years ago but isolated rustling cases occur now and then — especially in the mountain country of northern New Mexico.

"They work fast," Bishop said, explaining why his enforcement agency hasn't been able to make many charges stick although it hauls in a few suspects for questioning now and then.

"They usually kill the cattle on the spot and 'hog dress' them there, dump the carcass in the truck and away they go," he said.

"I can't say how many rustling cases we find a year," Bishop continued. "We had only two or three this summer, but several last fall; we expect more business when cold weather arrives."

The laws are strict enough: A cattleman must brand his livestock and register the brand with the state; he cannot even move his own cow off his land without a brand inspector's permission.

The last law is never enforced, Bishop admitted, unless the violator happens to be a cattle thief — and charges of violating the other laws are hardly ever made to stick.

"The trouble is this," Bishop complained, "some of the people don't think they're doing anything wrong. One well-respected man told me: 'if you're hungry you've violated no laws'."

New Manager Named For Penney Store

Appointment of John T. Gray as new manager of the J. C. Penney Co. Store at Corte Madera Shopping Center was announced today.

Gray will assume the post tomorrow, succeeding Larry D. Gaisford, who has managed the store since it opened last year. Gaisford will become manager of Penney's San Leandro store.

The 40-year-old Gray has been merchandise and sales promotion manager at the Penney outlet in Hayward. Before that, he was Penney's division manager in Stockton. He has been with the organization 13 years.

Gray and his wife, Frances, are house hunting in Marin. They have two sons, Robert, 14, and John, 11.

"He will be a real asset to the community," Gaisford predicted. "I have known him for a long time."

Gaisford, 42, managed the Penney store in North Hollywood before coming to Marin. He and his wife, Lucille, have made their home at 30 Corte Cordova, Greenbrae. They have a son, Larry, 19, and a daughter, Pat, 15.

AT CENTER PARKING LOT

Marinites Invited To View Fireworks

Merchants of the Corte Madera Shopping Center today invited Marin County residents to use the center's parking facilities Saturday night for viewing the spectacular Larkspur-Corte Madera Fourth of July fireworks display.

The fireworks will be shot from the Neil Cummins School grounds, a short distance from the center.

"Our huge parking area, with space for more than 2,100 cars, will provide an excellent vantage point," said Ray Zierolf, president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council.

Zierolf said those planning to park at the center should come early. Parking spaces are available on a first come, first served basis, he warned.

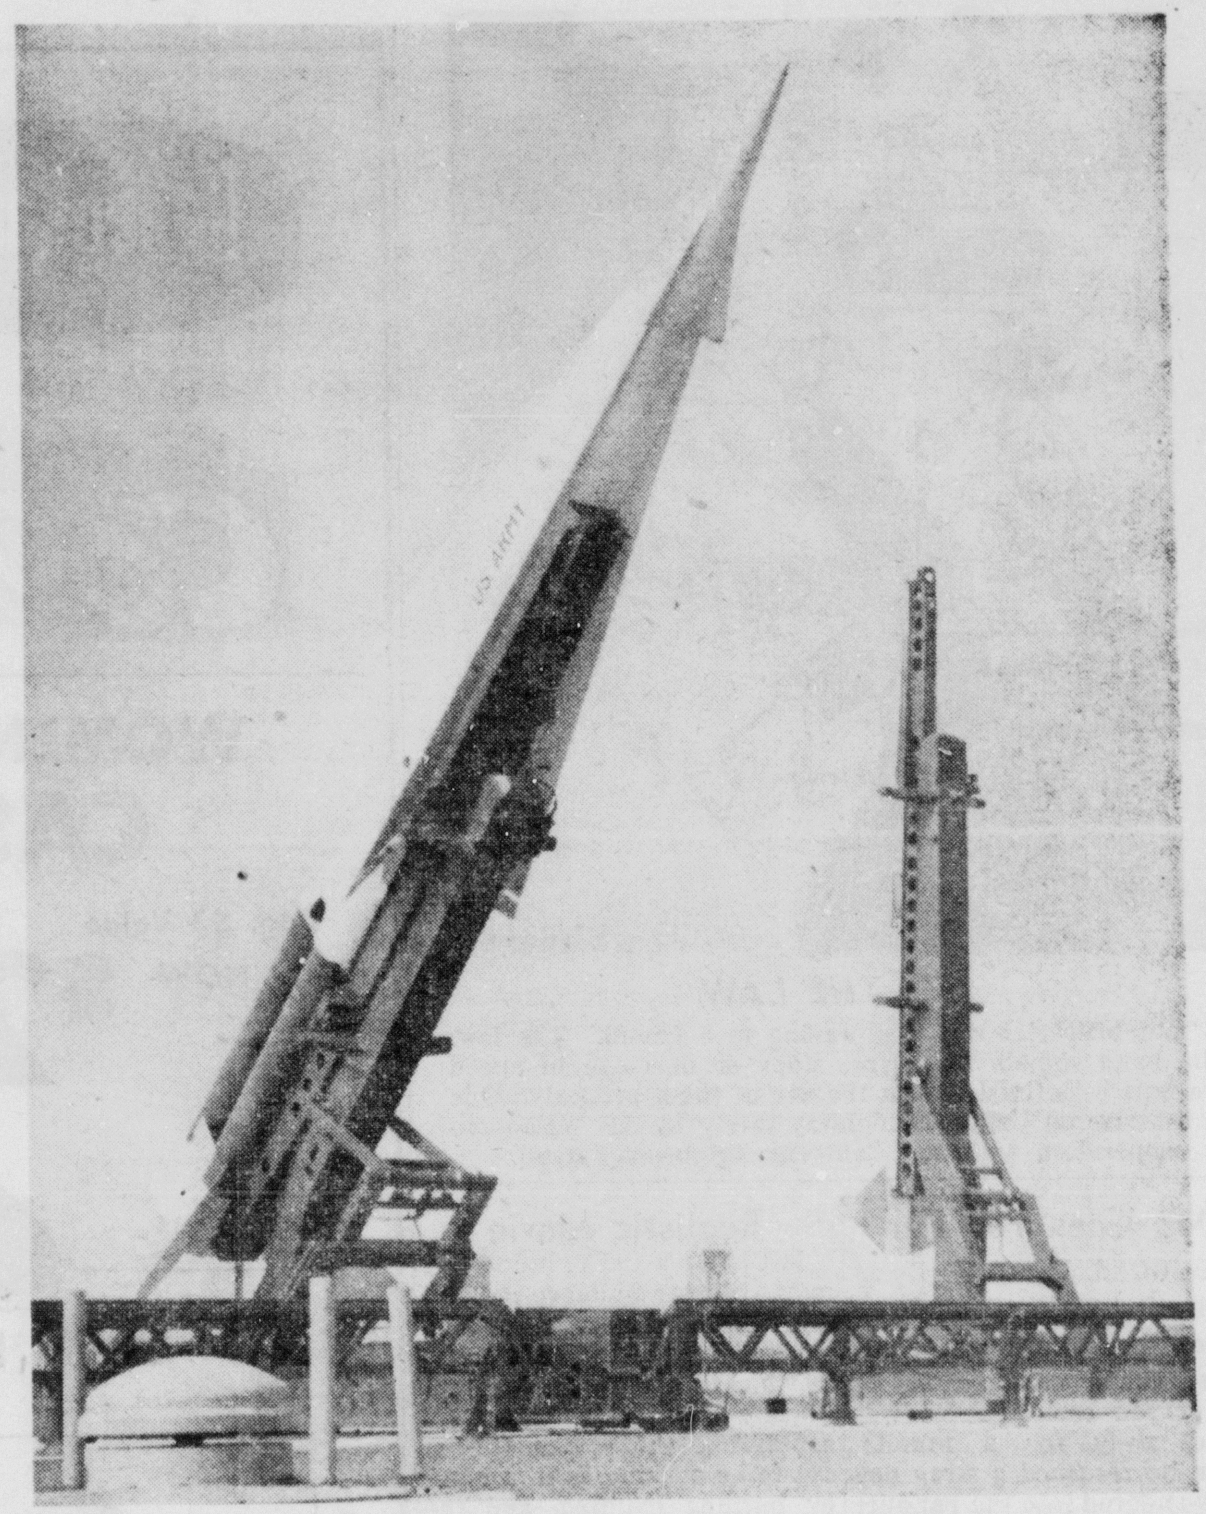

The seventh annual fireworks display is sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission. Saturday's show will feature more than 225 aerial effects.

Fireworks simultaneously operated by two crews "to achieve almost constant activity in the skies" will be an innovation at this year's display, said Fred Banducci, general chairman.

"The display will be even more spectacular than any previously presented, and will rank with the best to be seen in Northern California," Banducci said.

Someone Cut In

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Chadwick told police she stepped out on the dance floor of a Phoenix night club with her $1,500 stole tossed around her shoulders. When the dance was over the mink stole was missing.

NIKES—FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

Good Actor

JONESVILLE, Mich. (AP)—State troopers rushed to the scene after a freight conductor tossed a note to a motorist at a crossing, saying there was a dead body on a strawstack along the track a mile back. On the strawstack, still motionless was a 13-year-old Frank Manke, playing a "dead Redskin" in a game of cowboys and Indians with another boy.

Lending A Hand

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Quite by accident, 22-year-old Larry Roberts literally lent a hand to a woman motorist whose car couldn't traction. As he tried to place a piece of canvas under a wheel, the woman gunned the motor, ran over his hand and drove away. Roberts went to a hospital for treatment.

Now He's Sadder

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—David Makala, 18, laughed himself into trouble with the police when they stopped his automobile because of general disturbance and horn honking. He was booked on disorderly conduct charges because of his attitude and derisive laughter which he simply blamed on a laughing jag.

Neat Thieves

ALVA, Okla. (UPI)—Police reported burglars broke into a building on the Herb Osehl farm near here, by smashing a glass window, then neatly swept up the splinters.
